75 Millions Proposed For Recreational Lands

Wharton Named Again for Post Of Congressman

J. Ernest Wharton of Richmondville, Schoharie County, was the unanimous choice of the 29th Congressional District Republican convention, held Saturday at Poughkeepsie, to succeed himself as representative from the district which includes Ulster, Dutchess, Columbia, Greene and Schoharie Counties.

Congressman Wharton was nominated by James Gage, Schoharie Republican County Chairman, and there were seconds by every delegate present.

The 29th District Congressional convention was held at the Nelson House, Poughkeepsie, at noon Saturday with Ulster County Republican Committee Chairman Kenneth L. Wolson presiding. Robert A. Snyder, secretary of the Ulster County Republican Committee, was secretary of the meeting.

Also named at the convention were Republican delegates, and alternates, to the National Convention.

James Asbury of Poughkeepsie was nominated by Mervin Tinkelpaugh of Columbia County and Neil Brandow of Greene County was nominated by Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson of Ulster. Both Asbury and Brandow accepted.

For Civil Rights
In accepting the nomination as Republican candidate to succeed himself in Congress, Congressman Wharton promised to fight to the end for civil rights.

Congressman Wharton, who succeeded Jay LeFevre of New Paltz in Congress in 1951, was born in Binghamton, October 4, 1899. He is a graduate of Richmondville High School, Union University and Albany Law School. He served in World War I and was admitted to the bar in 1923. He has served as district attorney, surrogate and county judge of Schoharie County and also as Children's Court Judge. In 1947 he was reelected surrogate and county judge and in 1950 was nominated and elected member of Congress.

Governor Asks Bond Approval

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller, in a sweeping program to enlarge and improve recreational lands in the state, has proposed that a 75-million-dollar bond issue be placed on the ballot next November.

"The urgency of the situation requires that we act now or forever lose the opportunity to meet effectively and economically the recreation needs of the people, the Republican governor said.

He urged approval of the bond issue Saturday in a special message to the Legislature.

Twenty million dollars from the proposed bond issue would be used by the state to buy lands for state parks.

Fifteen million would be spent on additional outdoor recreation facilities, including public camping, fishing, hunting, boating, winter sports and conservation.

Twelve million would be used as state aid to cities other than New York for the purchase of land for parks.

Another 12 million in aid would be allocated to New York City for the purchase of land for parks.

To Buy Park Sites
Sixteen million would go for state aid to counties and towns to buy park sites.

The state would pay 75 per cent of the purchase costs under the aid programs.

No specific sites to be bought were mentioned.

The bond issue would be repaid through fees and other charges for the use of recreational facilities. At present, these revenues amount to approximately 3 1/2 million dollars annually.

The governor said the growth of cities and shifts of populations into the suburbs has taken place in many areas without adequate planning for recreation facilities.

"The result," Rockefeller said, "has been that the available land for such purposes has in many places been swallowed up by development."

Parks Overcrowded
Rockefeller said state parks, at present, were overcrowded in many areas and in other areas, where substantial demand now exists, there are no parks.

"Public access to many of our rivers and lakes is lacking or entirely inadequate," he said. "The great shortage of day-use recreation areas within reach of our millions of city and suburban dwellers is of particularly pressing concern."

Rockefeller based his program on a statewide survey by the Conservation Department and the State Council of Parks.

Another Bid for Original Urban Renewal Project

A first local urban renewal project should contain enough land to provide for "taxpayers' uses, as well as housing facilities," Mayor Edwin F. Radel emphasized in a new bid to keep a federal aid sum of $4,225,000, as originally proposed, and not cut to $1,500,000.

This and other points were stressed in a letter from the mayor to Charles J. Horan, regional director, Urban Renewal Administration, Housing and Home Finance Agency, 346 Broadway, New York. The letter was proposed March 7 when the mayor, Arthur Sweid, and George Raymond, of Raymond & May Associates, local planners, met with others in New York City.

The city, the mayor felt then, had presented its case well. The project, as now estimated, will cost "close to $6,000,000."

A smaller urban renewal project, the mayor held in his letter, would not be feasible for a variety of reasons, which he outlined. He also feared state allotment complications before a second phase could get started here.

Aim of First Project
A major aim of a first project, he noted, would be to provide for a share of commercial-industrial tax-paying uses, and he explained that "it is imperative that the city, at all times, have control over all sections of the project in order to be able to coordinate relocation progress with the clearance of properties for resale."

The city, he wrote, "must approve each project as a separate entity within the framework of the G.N.R.P. The need, therefore, would be less, if complete assurance that all required federal funds to carry out the full program were available."

"As things stand," he said, "with federal commitments covering only one project at a time, to be successful in the City of Kingston, each project (and particularly the first project) must show long-range economic and financial feasibility. This can be done here, only through re-use of a substantial amount of land for commercial and/or industrial purposes."

A portion of new residential construction, will undoubtedly involve some form of tax abatement (Continued on Page 8, Col. 7)

Civil Rights Penalty Provisions Are Urged

Khrushchev Ill With Flu, Trip To Paris Off

By STANLEY JOHNSON

MOSCOW (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev is expected to be laid up the rest of the week with influenza, which forced a last-minute postponement of his tour of France.

Diplomats here scoffed at the idea that the Soviet premier, who was scheduled to fly to Paris Tuesday, might be pleading "an illness of convenience." They said he was eagerly looking forward to pre-summit talks with French President Charles de Gaulle.

There were some Western suggestions that Khrushchev had decided it would not be discreet to follow up his recent Southeast Asian tour, in which he denounced colonialism, with a formal visit to a country many Asians and Africans consider the worst colonial offender.

If the Kremlin had ever worried about this, diplomats here said, Khrushchev would never have arranged the French tour in the first place.

Will Fix New Date
The Communist party newspaper Pravda said this morning announcing the postponement of Khrushchev's visit "will be fixed by the two governments promptly."

There is a possibility that his French tour, originally planned for two weeks, may be shortened (Continued on Page 8, Col. 7)

Senate Cut It From Own Bill

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration urged House support today for a civil rights penalty provision which the Senate cut from its own bill last week.

Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers said "it is of the utmost importance" that Congress authorize fines and prison sentences against persons who willfully use force of threats of force to interfere with court-ordered school integration.

The Senate last week eliminated such a provision after first amending it to apply to interference with federal court orders in labor and other disputes as well as school integration.

Although the Senate is starting a fifth week of debate on its own bill, its leaders still are counting on eventual passage of whatever measure the House passes.

In House Bill
The penalty provision still is in the House bill, but Rep. Edwin E. Ellis (D-La.) said an amendment will be offered to extend its scope to other kinds of cases as the Senate voted to do.

Rogers sent his new request in the form of a letter Sunday night to Rep. William M. McCulloch (R-Ohio), who had asked his views in the light of the Senate action.

"Court orders in the school cases will be enforced," Rogers wrote, "and the interests of the nation require that it be done in an orderly manner—without mob violence and without the necessity of using federal troops."

He said the section "has as one of its specific purposes preventing a recurrence of what happened in Little Rock, Ark., in 1957." Federal troops were sent to Little Rock then to quell mob violence which accompanied the entry of nine Negro students into Little Rock's Central High School.

Southerners have contended that any such penalty provision, if enacted, should apply to interference with any kind of court order. Its use in school cases alone would be unfair and discriminatory, they say.

Castro Talks About His Fighting Force
By ROBERT BERRERLEZ

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro warned his enemies today that Cuba's revolutionary army is stronger than the Algerian nationalists who are holding off a French force of half a million.

But, he told a cheering crowd, the amount his government is spending for arms "should be of no one's concern. What is important is that the bulk of the revolution's resources have not been invested in arms but in tractors and machinery."

The fiery Prime Minister delivered a rambling post-midnight speech at a University of Havana ceremony in memory of the students killed in an abortive attempt to assassinate ex-President Fulgencio Batista three years ago.

Castro's reference to his fighting force appeared in reaction to a recent New York Times report that Cuba spent 120 million dollars in foreign exchange for arms last year.

Clintondale Boy Killed, 4 Other Teen-agers Hurt

A 14-year-old Clintondale boy was killed and four other teenagers injured late Sunday night when the car in which they were riding went out of control and plunged off Route 9W in the town of Newburgh, Orange County.

Fatally injured was Raymond Coy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Coy of Route 44-55, Clintondale.

The injured youths, all of Clintondale, were admitted to St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh; Robert Conklin, 19, operator of the vehicle, possible internal injuries, sprained left ankle and right knee, reported by hospital authorities as "fairly good."

Carl Coy, 13, laceration of the scalp, possible internal injuries, possible skull fracture, severe cerebral concussion, condition "poor."

Robert Minard, 13, possible skull fracture, severe cerebral concussion, fracture of the left leg, laceration of the face, condition "fairly good."

Sixth Vehicular Death
Young Coy's death was the sixth vehicular fatality in Orange county this year.

Newburgh state police told The Freeman that Conklin was driving in a northerly direction on Route 9W about 10:21 p. m. when his car suddenly went out of control, veered off the right side of the highway, plunging through guard posts and cable down an embankment and struck a tree with its right side.

The mishap is still under investigation, it was reported.

It is believed that there may have been a mechanical failure. The accident occurred just north of Lester Road, town of Newburgh.

The Coy youth is survived by his parents; his brother, Carl; a sister, Eileen; grandmothers, Mrs. Flossie Decker and Mrs. Florence Coy of Clintondale, and several cousins.

Funeral services will be held at the Sutton Funeral Home, Crescent Avenue, Clintondale, Wednesday 2 p. m. The Rev. Jesse Stanfield of Clintondale will officiate. Burial will be in Lloyd Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Tuesday evening.

Tame Geese Shot By Kingston Man Who Pays $141.50

A Kingston man who shot five domestic geese, thinking they were wild, paid a fine of $141.50 when he appeared before Justice of the Peace Robert Ferrigan of the Town of Kingston on Sunday.

John J. Melnik, 33, of 48 East Pierpont Street, was arrested by Kingston state police on complaint of Byron Gerlach of the Sawkill road, town of Kingston, who breeds geese commercially.

Trooper William Cameron of the state police said Melnik told them he was shooting rats when he saw a flight of geese overhead. He fired six times with a 12-gauge shotgun, bagging five fowl.

Cameron said the shooting occurred on the Gerlach farm. Cameron and Game Warden Henry Bernstein arrested Melnik charging him with violation of Section 369 of the Fish and Game Law, involving the taking of domestic fowl.

Melnik told state police that he walked from his home to the Sawkill area where the shooting took place.

Cameron said Gerlach raised geese and had recently sold a large number. Those which were shot were being retained for breeding stock.

Gerlach received a total of $89 from the fine of $141.50 paid by Melnik. He was awarded $50 or half of the $100 fine levied for violation of the Conservation Law, plus $39 which was the estimated value of the geese Melnik also paid $2.50 court costs.

It was pointed out that if the geese had been wild the penalty might have been more severe.

URGES DISARMAMENT — Nobel peace prize winner Philip Niel-Baker, above, urged in London, England, that the West accept Russian disarmament proposals because "the Russians are so far ahead of us" in missile development. He said he would not be surprised to see 12 or 15 more nations in the atomic club within a decade.

Adenauer said: "Behind everything that is being said here and there against Germany, there is the concerted will of the Soviet Union. The Soviet Union wants to drive a wedge between the German and American people in order to shift the political balance of the world in favor of the Soviet Union."

Far From Nazi
"I assure you that the spirit of Germany today is far from being anti-Semitic or Nazi."

Practicing democracy, Adenauer said, "seems to be a difficult thing, as you can see from the debate in the United States Senate." He apparently alluded to the civil rights debate.

"I might, therefore, ask your tolerance and understanding for the German Parliament and at times our federal government," he said.

Trust Co. Branch Sets Observance Of Anniversary

Forty years of banking service in the mid-town area of Kingston will be observed Tuesday by the Central Branch of the Kingston Trust Company.

After several years of effort on the part of business men in the central part of the city, the Central Branch of the Kingston Trust Company was opened on May 15, 1920.

On the opening day the total deposits amounted to $33,766.66, the first deposit being made by Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Levitas. At that time Dr. Levitas had offices on the upper floor of the bank building and had vowed to be the first depositor in the new bank. He was closely followed by the late M. Clyde Crosby and William O'Reilly who conducted businesses in the central portion of the city.

Personnel Increased
Starting with three employees the bank has grown until today there are 36 officers and employees. Ernest LeFevre, who became first manager of the Central Branch, now vice-president and assistant treasurer, remains manager of the branch today.

In 1920 when the Central Branch of the Kingston Trust Company was established the late William J. Turck was president; Philip Eltinge, vice president; Arthur A. Davis, secretary-treasurer and former County Judge James Jenkins was counsel. Philip Eltinge later became president of the bank and Arthur A. Davis has since risen to the position of president and treasurer, a position to which he was elected to succeed the late Alva S. Staples. Vernon S. Miller, now assistant vice president, became associated with the branch shortly after it was (Continued on Page 8, Col. 5)

Jews Will Not Suffer Any Harm Soviet Would Drive Wedge

NEW YORK (AP)—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer says his nation today is a practicing democracy, and he blames recent anti-Semitic incidents there on a "minute minority of neo-Nazis."

"Be convinced," said Adenauer Sunday, "that this Germany is a democratic Germany and that none of its Jewish citizens will suffer any harm or damage."

Adenauer said: "Behind everything that is being said here and there against Germany, there is the concerted will of the Soviet Union. The Soviet Union wants to drive a wedge between the German and American people in order to shift the political balance of the world in favor of the Soviet Union."

Busy Sunday
The 84-year-old German leader has a busy Sunday. He spoke at a luncheon of the American Council on Germany. Earlier, he had breakfast with Francis Cardinal Spellman after Mass, and visited the Metropolitan Museum of Art. Sunday night he attended a private dinner.

The chancellor, who is en route to Tokyo for a state visit, will go to Washington Tuesday to confer with President Eisenhower.

5 Men Involved In Shooting Are Now in Custody

The man who allegedly pumped four slugs into the stomach of a New Jersey truck driver early Saturday morning was apprehended late that afternoon in a wooded section south of Port Jervis, Orange County.

John L. Bristol, 33, of Port Jervis, was taken by Middletown state police without resistance as he was flushed out of the woods into the Pocatello road.

He was the last of five men involved in the shooting of Edward Fry of Washington, N. J., driver of a tractor-trailer, to be apprehended. Fry was reported in fair condition today at the Horton Memorial Hospital, Middletown.

State Milk Group Asks Rocky to Abolish Law

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—A state law that protects milk dealers from "destructive competition" has caused monopolies and should be abolished, a state committee declared today.

The Special Committee on Milk Licensing made its recommendation in a report to Gov. Rockefeller and Agriculture Commissioner Don Wickham.

Rockefeller forwarded the report to the Legislature's committees on agriculture.

The milk - licensing committee, headed by President Everett Case of Colgate University, declared that:

PSC Files Lawsuit
"A free market for the handling of fluid milk, adequately supervised and regulated will benefit producer and consumer alike while restoring... those incentives to initiative and efficient operation which are inherent in a genuinely competitive situation."

Under present law, the agriculture commissioner may refuse to license a dealer to sell milk in a given area if the commissioner feels the granting of the license "will tend to a destructive competition in a market already adequately served."

In another development related to the milk industry, the Public Service Commission announced it had brought suit in State Supreme Court to collect $41,000 in fines levied against 14 milk-hauling trucks.

The commission said some truckers had been attempting to "simulate an interstate operation" in order to avoid state regulation. The state regulates milk haulers who are in interstate business but not those operating between states.

United Jewish Campaign Quota Reported Today

Arthur P. Motzkin, chairman of the United Jewish Welfare Fund, today announced the quota of $60,000 to be raised in 1960 for the United Jewish Welfare Fund Campaign. The United Jewish Appeal is the largest beneficiary of this campaign.

In calling for maximum support from the community, Motzkin declared that 1960 was the beginning of an intensive effort to speed the process of integrating Israel's unabsorbed immigrants. Proceeds of the Kingston campaign would be used to help care for more than 600,000 Jews in need throughout the world.

Calling for swift community action, Motzkin emphasized the historic challenge of the current campaign. The lack of an immigration emergency at this time in Israel, he declared, is a sign not for complacency but for redoubled effort, lest a future emergency be roadblocked into chaos.

The organization meeting of the Campaign Cabinet has been set for Tuesday, March 15. Motzkin will, at that time, announce the appointment of community leaders to key campaign positions.

Seek Upstate Family

Police were asked through a Rochester message Sunday night to contact members of an Odell family in this area. Arthur Raymond and Flora Odell, it said, are believed to be in or near Kingston. Mrs. Edward Burke and family at Poughkeepsie last Sunday.

Doolittle returned recently from a trip to El Paso, Texas, where he visited his daughter, Mrs. Frank E. Keiser and family. While there, Doolittle visited Mexico, and several states in the southwestern section of the country.

Mrs. DuBois Grimm has received word that her nephew, Philip Thorne, son of Mrs. June Reynolds Thorne of Highland and the late Harry Thorne, is in serious condition at a Syracuse hospital, with severe head injuries, sustained in an accident.

Thorne, a freshman at St. Lawrence University, served as director of music in Highland High School and later at the Arlington High School, Poughkeepsie.

Mrs. Thorne taught music to young people from this vicinity.

Mrs. Marie Winters was appointed to represent the Guild on the Methodist parsonage committee. Plans were made for a sewing project on Tuesday, March 22 at Mrs. Alice Lofink's. The previous session was cancelled. Mrs. Florence Hyatt spoke on the understanding of the magazine, and members pledged a sum of money toward the fund being raised by a newly organized committee of clergymen, civic and community leaders and farmers.

The next meeting of the Guild will be Tuesday evening, April 12, at the home of Mrs. Marian Jansen, Ardonia, with Mrs. Evelyn Abbott in charge of the program. The subject will be Rachael.

The meeting will open at 7:30 p. m.

The Parents Group met recently at Modena School, with Mrs. Wanda Coy presiding.

Plans were discussed for an auction sale to be held at Modena School Friday, May 20 at 8 p. m.

The group would like to have householders keep them in mind while doing their spring cleaning, and any articles of salable value which they would care to donate to club members for the sale, will be called for by an appointed group.

At a future date, the names of those appointed will be announced. A committee meeting is being planned for that purpose.

Parents and other interested persons are cordially invited to attend.

New Publication Featuring County Gov't Issued

The population explosion and its effects on New York State is discussed this week in the first issue of County Government Magazine. The Hon. Joseph F. Carlini, speaker of the New York State Assembly, explains how this problem can be solved through sound state legislation and local government.

County Government Magazine, the official organ of the County Officers' Association, State of New York has just been mailed from Albany to all of the association's members throughout the state. Copies have also been sent to all leading state officials at Albany, and to every member of the state legislature.

The launching of County Government grew out of a definite need recognized by the executives of the association who contracted with New York City Publications to publish the magazine. It will enable the association's scattered membership to exchange ideas, formulate policy, explore new methods; in short to bring more cohesiveness to the New York State Association whose actions affect every citizen of the state.

For this reason the publishers have requested New York State officials to contribute items relating to their administrative and governmental activities. The publishers and the association have therefore committed themselves to ensure that each issue of County Government will carry editorial matter which will contribute to continuing enlightened leadership and progressive government.

Encouragement for the project was given by Governor Rockefeller, Lieutenant Governor Wilson, Attorney General Leavitt and State Comptroller Leavitt, as well as former Presidents Herbert Hoover and Harry S. Truman.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—In all the hullabaloo of late during stock market rallies and bond price advances there has been a persistent rumor: The nation's money managers have started to, or are about to, reverse their tight money policy.

The stock market has reacted also to rumors the Federal Reserve Board might lower the stock margin from the present rule of 90 per cent cash.

Won't Discuss Future

On a loftier plane than the rumor market is another debate as to what really makes money tight: An official policy or the people themselves—how much they want to borrow, how much they save. In other words, whether it's artificial manipulation, or the law of supply and demand.

You can inflate credit for a time. But in the long run, unless you start up the printing presses, the money for real investment is supplied out of the nation's total of savings.

Federal Reserve spokesmen say of the rumor that the system is changing its policy on credit and money: "It just isn't so." But, as always, they don't discuss future policies.

Since the first of the year the board has been following a policy of wait and see. What it is waiting to see is if some slackening of late in the business pace in certain fields is really a sign of a general slowdown coming.

Few See Sure Signs

If that should develop—and few see any sure signs of it now—the Fed is expected to take steps to furnish the commercial banks with more money to lend. This could or could not lead to lower interest rates depending on the volume of demand.

If a general drop in business activity doesn't develop after spring chases away winter's hand-caps, the Fed may rock along about as now. It would see that the banks have enough credit to extend to corporations borrowing to meet March 15 tax dates, to carry on their normal seasonal business, to expand at a pace the money managers consider safe for the general economic health.

The Fed can ease credit tightness in the banks either by stepping into the market for U.S. securities so as to swell bank deposits, or by changing the banks' reserve requirements so that they can lend more of the money they already have.

Cite 1960's Record

But defenders of the Fed's policy of restraint since the recession ended hold that its role really isn't the major one in deciding whether interest rates rise and lenders are harder to find.

They cite this year's record so far. Without any change in Federal Reserve policy, money has grown less tight, while short term interest rates have varied widely from time to time, although never dropping very far before rising again.

During this time the Fed kept the bank reserves fairly stable. What happened was that money flowed back into the banks to repay pre-Christmas loans. Then business desire to borrow money began to slacken. More money, rates dropped a bit. When demand picked up, interest rates recovered.

FDA Plans Drive Against Nation's Medical Quacks

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP)—Have you ever tried turtle oil to iron out your wrinkles, used royal jelly to cure anything that ails you, or applied an electric shock to mend broken bones?

If you have, you may be among the millions of Americans who shell out close to a billion dollars a year to medical and nutritional quacks.

The Food and Drug Administration is conducting a running war against "literally thousands of medical quacks" and wants Congress to put up more money to finance the fight.

George P. Larrick, head of the agency created to police the food and drug business, recently outlined his problems to a House Appropriations subcommittee which published his testimony today.

Larrick brought along some samples to back up his case. They included a "hagi pipe" and a plastic bag into which a person suffering from muscle cramps sticks his head.

The "hagi pipe," made in Japan at a cost of 6 cents, was offered for sale at $2.40. Made of bamboo with a mouthpiece on one end, it carried this claim: "Gospel to all smokers, hagi pipe to prevent lung cancer from smoking."

The directions for the plastic bag, which sold for a dollar, told the user to "stick your head down in the bag and exhale into it, and then breathe back your own breath." After doing that five times, the cramps were supposed to disappear.

Another form of "medical hocus - pocus" is long - distance diagnosis and treatment of ailments. The patient sends in a drop of blood on a blotter and gets a reply telling him what to do. One skeptical person sent in the blood from a rooster. The long-distance diagnosis was that the patient had "malaria and gonorrhea."

Health for All

Watch Out!

Influenza is here! In February both the common cold and the flu were flourishing. And it's no surprise if there's a lot of both in March too.

Influenza symptoms include fever, sore throat, headache, aching muscles, and extreme tiredness. When the illness has run its course—anywhere from one to two weeks—the patient would be well advised to have something handy to hold on to when he first gets out of bed. He'll feel as though he'd just run non-stop from New York to Los Angeles and he's quite likely to feel that way for another two weeks. Prowling pneumonia germs will have a hungry eye on him during this period, so he'd better get plenty of rest.

The flu is a dangerous illness for anybody. But it's particularly perilous for anyone with a chronic chest disease—bronchitis, tuberculosis, emphysema, or any other lung or heart ailment. The flu can make the ailment worse in sufferers from such diseases. It can bring on a relapse in those who have recovered. And it can kill.

If you have or have had a chronic respiratory disease, ask your doctor about vaccination against flu. There are a number of influenza viruses, and vaccines available today do not protect against all of them. However, if a case of flu would be especially dangerous to you, vaccination is a worth-while precaution.

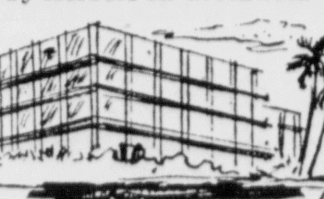

Backstop the vaccine with extra, rest, good food, and avoidance of crowded places as much as possible. If you come down with even the mildest of colds, stay home and take particularly good care of yourself.

THE CLASSIFIEDS

This is National Want Ad Week and we take this opportunity to point out the importance of the classified advertising section in newspapers. Some say it is the oldest form of advertising in North America, having first appeared in 1704 in the Boston Newsletter.

More than a billion lines of classified advertising appear every year in the nation's newspapers. Primarily they serve as a central market place where persons with things to sell and persons with things to buy can complete their transactions. These range from country estates to second-hand bicycles or outgrown high-chairs.

But classified ads serve many other purposes equally well. It is to them that the homeseeker turns to find the house he wants to rent or buy. It is to them that the job-seeker turns to look for the job he needs. It is through them that one can get any kind of message to another person or to the entire population of the community. No wonder classified advertising is called everybody's advertising.

A large percentage of newspaper readers scan the classified ads assiduously every day. They are interesting reading and a handy guide to bargains and services that would be impossible to locate by any other method. The numbers of housing units for sale or rent, the businesses offered for sale together with the many other items are a barometer of the health of a community.

NO INSTANT IDEAS

The appearance of various so-called instant food products has given rise to a lot of jokes about "instant money" and the like. The jokes are amusing. Some persons have been so caught up in the spirit of the thing that they believe there might even be instant ideas. This is considerably less amusing.

The notion that there could be instant ideas, instant opinions on virtually any subject, is intriguing. It would save so much brain work if one could simply turn to the proper source, stir in a bit of more or less concentrated attention, and come up with an idea guaranteed to withstand any assault. But this, dolorous as it may seem, is not possible.

Ideas, with the exception of occasional flashes that the average mind is not likely to experience, are the product of reflective thought. Sound opinions are based on a weighing of all the factors concerned. This reflection, this weighing of the evidence, takes time. The more complex the problem, the greater the time and mental effort required for the analytical process.

Information can be digested to a certain extent, though this has its dangers. But no one has ever found a way to substantially reduce the amount of time involved in thinking a problem through. Instant may be the word for coffee and whipped potatoes. Instant is not the word for ideas.

WITHHOLDING DIVIDENDS

If the predictions are accurate, all dividends will soon be subject to withholding taxes. As is now the case with wages and salaries, a percentage would be retained by the company paying dividends and sent to the Internal Revenue Service.

The Treasury Department has long advocated such procedure. The department claims that either willfully, or through ignorance, about 1.2 billion dollars in dividends does not appear on income tax returns. As this represents a loss in tax revenue of about 300 million dollars, it is easy to sympathize with the tax collectors.

Together with this consideration of a loss in revenue, there is the wage earner's feeling in the matter. Why, he asks, should wages and salaries be subject to a tax bite at the source while others are trusted to report income? Though this may be called a dog in the manger attitude, there is some justice in it.

At any rate, with the tax take continuing at its present level, collection methods

WE CAN'T HAVE IT BOTH WAYS

It is necessary, because of commitments of the United States, that a comparatively large number of Americans live in foreign countries. They are there in many positions, some governmental, some civilian. It is to be assumed that many of them have become expert in particular fields and particular countries. Some speak one or more foreign languages.

It takes many years to become expert about anything. I know from personal experience, that many who write about Russia and China, know nothing about the subject. A short tourist visit does not make an expert. Often it produces a conceited, self-assertive reservoir of misinformation.

So along comes Major General William T. Hefley, commander of the Air Material Command, European Area, who is of the opinion that an American "who knows" living in foreign countries more than four years is not a good citizen and should turn in his passport.

Why four years and not three or five years? How does the General measure such qualifications in time? How long, for instance, does it take an American to study Arabic and the interrelations of Egypt and Syria vis-a-vis Israel and Jordan, or Iraq and Iran? Does the General know how long it takes a man to become expert in Pushtu and to have a working knowledge of the relations between the Pathans and the Pakistani and why the Benjaminites are a problem in the Khyber Pass?

I pick two areas where the United States is deeply involved—so much so that the President of the United States, under extremely difficult circumstances, visited Kabul. One real advantage that Russia has had over us in the Cold War is not only that the Russians carefully trained experts for each country but gave the experts status. General Hefley said:

"Most of the people who don't want to go back home don't have the slightest interest in the U. S. except for the high American pay they receive."

Of course, this is not remotely true. I have known hundreds of Americans who lived in various parts of Asia. There were men and women in business who received excellent compensation and there were missionaries, teachers and doctors who received almost no monetary satisfaction but found compensation in their services to God and man. All were fanatically patriotic Americans, more so than those who stayed back home. They were competitive in their patriotism. And many of them, over the years, did jobs for the United States, which brought no titles, no honors, no pay other than the satisfaction of serving.

The General's difficulty arose from the fact that when he sought to make savings and improvements in efficiency, he found a lot of overseas Americans who can live cheaply in Europe, save their money and avoid taxes. He is sound in going after such folks but he should differentiate between them and those who are doing extremely hard work, serving this country in a program of world leadership and world knowledge which our government initiated. The General said:

"I found that when I wanted to cut out wasteful, unnecessary operations, such as warehouse depots, I first had to get rid of the civilians who had lived overseas so long that they had lost touch with American life."

All this is sound and correct except that we require experts in many fields and those who are sent abroad by the government should have the responsibility of making themselves expert. For instance, if General Hefley had said that an American in the service of the government, who in four years does not have a working knowledge of each language of each country where he has been stationed, should be brought home, he would be correct. He might also have stated that if such persons could not pass examinations in some fields of history, literature, social customs, etc., of these countries, they should be brought home, he would have been correct.

For the United States, it is a total loss to give an American the monetary advantages of working abroad, unless that person and his wife and children prepare themselves to be of service in some degree of expertise for the United States. Time-servers and featherbedders have no value in the enterprise of even peaceful coexistence with Soviet Russia. What we require are carefully trained men and women in a vast variety of fields.

Successful Hernial Surgery

Involves Several Factors . .

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.

Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

"What is the best way of treating hernias?" ask several correspondents.

A hernia is merely a defect in a wall of body tissue. As the term is usually used, it applies to a defect in the belly wall. Most abdominal hernias, to which these writers probably refer, occur in the region of the groin (inguinal and femoral hernias), at the belly button (umbilical hernias) or in a surgical wound (incisional hernias).

While a small hernial defect may be defended by a properly fitted brace or truss, it can only be properly corrected by surgical repair.

Although herniotomy, as it is called technically, is a relatively simple operative procedure, it will not be permanently successful unless certain conditions are thoughtfully observed.

Reurrences are most apt to occur if the patient's tissues are weakened by flabby muscles and heavy fat deposits through which sustaining sutures tear.

Consequently most experienced surgeons suggest a course of conditioning and weight reduction before undertaking the repair, which must be done with the most scrupulous care if a permanent result is desired. Efforts to accomplish this same end with techniques of injection have been abandoned in most clinics.

"IS IT HARMFUL to chew tobacco or use snuff?" asks another group of correspondents.

While tobacco-chewing has not been related to lung cancer or blood vessel disease, as has smoking, it may lead to the development of malignant growths of the gums or cheeks, according to reliable British and Indian investigators.

Snuff, as it is known today, is merely powdered tobacco. So far as is known, it is harmless. Whether the snuff inhaled by dandies in the Restoration era was equally harmless I am not qualified to say. Because of the elegance of snuff-boxes, many of which are museum specimens, I have always suspected that they contained something more powerful than powdered tobacco. One possibility that suggests itself is some substance that produces the effect of cocaine.

"DO YOU APPROVE of the injection treatment of varicose veins?" Writes a dancer who is embarrassed by the appearance of her legs.

Ordinarily I am fearful of the injection of irritant solutions in blood vessels, no matter how carefully and skillfully the injections are made.

In the case of the writer of this letter, whose livelihood depends partly on the appearance of her legs, I would certainly make an exception provided that the varicosities were relatively small and the injections were made by an experienced surgeon.

With this and similar exceptions, I favor the use of protective stockings, now obtainable at small cost, reserving operative intervention for those who object to stockings and those who are unrelieved by them.

Dear Reader: Dr. Hyman appreciates your comments and questions and regrets that the heavy volume of his mail doesn't permit him to answer each individual letter or post card. However, he will comment in columns like the above upon matters general or unusual interest.

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Growth of Washington into one of the leading scientific centers in America points up that the U. S. capital can be many things to different people. It all depends on what you are looking for.

Negatively, Washington is a city of lobbyists, labor leaders, lawyers, legislators, bureaucrats, foreign diplomats, fixers, five-per-centers, seekers after special privilege. It has slums. It has a crime problem that is staggering.

To many outsiders, Washington is a pain in the neck. It is the seat of big government. And people who want to continue living in tight little worlds of their own, as their ancestors did, don't like the idea. They think of Washington primarily as the cause of high taxes.

Before the world wars, Washington was a hot and sleepy small town. It is still the world's largest small town.

But along with all those bad points, it has good ones.

TO TOURISTS WHO COME HERE

By the million, Washington is a cherry blossom, the Lincoln and Jefferson memorials, Washington Monument, the FBI tour, the White House, the Capitol, the Smithsonian, the Mount Vernon—to name the top-ten attractions.

It was only natural that a city with rubbernecking attractions such as these should become a convention city. There are 450 conventions already booked for 1960.

Though Washington has had the Library of Congress since 1800 — 36 million publications now—the city is just beginning to emerge as a cultural center. Opening of the Mellon Art gallery in 1941 was the starter.

Some day, the city hopes to have a cultural center for its symphony, opera society, ballet and experimental theater. As an educational center, Washington has six universities with 50,000 students.

Few people realize it, but Washington is also a world financial center. International lending agencies have resources of 37 billion dollars. U. S. government agencies have 27 billion on loan. Government trust funds for social security and other insurance programs total 21 billion. And this is the home of the national debt of 290 billion.

It should be no surprise that a city with all these assets would in this day and age become a scientific capital. Yet this has come only in the last 15 or 20 years.

The size of this development was emphasized the other day when the Washington Daily News printed a special section listing 130 companies that have built research laboratories here since the end of World War Two.

IT IS JUST THE BEGINNING

of a growing "industry"—something Washington has been without, except for government. Most of this business is on government project research and development. The blue sky, pure or basic research is still scattered throughout the nation's universities.

But these private research centers employ 16,000 scientists—about half the total in the Washington area. The other half work directly for the government.

They are in such old and famous institutions as National Bureau of Standards, Department of Agriculture's Beltsville Experiment Station, Food and Drug Administration, Office of Naval Research.

On top of these is a bigger group of newer scientific agencies.

Atomic Energy Commission, National Institutes of Health, National Aeronautics and Space Administration, Department of Defense Research and Engineering, National Science Foundation.

Dr. Alan T. Waterman, director of the foundation, has just told Congress that of the 12 and four-tenths billion dollars being spent on research this year, half is government money. This is what makes Washington the scientific capital of the free world.

THERE HAS BEEN SOME CONCERN among scientists that if disarmament should ever become a reality and not just a dream, the source of these research funds would dry up.

But there is no reason why it should. For there is still so much in this universe that man doesn't know.

Like how to pass a law that will give all citizens the right to vote or get an education of their choice.

Questions -- Answers

Q—For how long has the Bill of Rights been in force?

A—The first ten Amendments, which are known as the "Bill of Rights," were proposed September 25, 1789, and have been in force since December 15, 1791.

Q—Is the production of attar of roses an extensive process?

A—About 340 roses are required to supply a pound of petals. These thousands of petals only make about two drops of the attar.

Q—What type of plants are Xerophytes?

A—Plants which grow in dry places and which can live on little water.

Q—How old is the Boston Post Road?

A—This was one of the first roads in Colonial America. It was completed in 1672.

Testimony Throws Light On A. F. Manuals' Issues

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Are the American people getting a fair report on what the Air Force reserve training manual said about the "people's right to know" and about Communistic activity in the churches? Many members of Congress think not.

The best way perhaps to give the viewpoint of those members of Congress is to present some of the testimony, originally heard in executive session, when the Air Force Secretary, Dudley C. Sharp, testified. This now has been released for publication.

First of all, it's necessary to read in full text the paragraphs in the Air Force manual dealing with the "right to know" controversy. Here they are:

No Longer Secret

"When a newspaper prints some so-called secret data, it merely means the government no longer considers that particular data secret—it does not mean we have no secret left. Or it could mean that clever newsmen took pieces of unclassified information which they were authorized to have, put them together, and came up with the right answer. However, because such accounts may have given the correct information does not mean that the information is no longer classified. Newspapers are not official—and until the government declassifies security information, it remains classified."

"Another rather foolish remark often heard is that Americans have a right to know what's going on. Most people realize the foolhardiness of such a suggestion. If a football team should start telling the other side the plays it planned to use, they would be swept up in the field. It's the same war—hot or cold; if we tell our secrets, we are likely to be beaten, and beaten badly."

Testimony Quoted

Immediately after this quotation is printed in the testimony, there occurs this exchange between Richard Arens, staff director of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, and the Secretary of the Air Force, Mr. Sharp:

"Mr. Arens: Mr. Secretary, the whole import of that language is that the military is entitled to protect secrets, is it not?"

"Secretary Sharp: Yes, I would think so; yes, sir."

"Mr. Arens: It is not intended, as you read the two paragraphs in entire context, to convey the impression that the American people as such are not entitled to know in general what is going on; isn't that correct?"

"Secretary Sharp: That certainly is correct; yes, sir."

At another point in the same executive session, Mr. Arens took up the section dealing with Communist infiltration in the churches and read again from the manual which declared that the Communist party in this country had instructed many of its members to infiltrate the churches. The manual had made this comment:

"Again, to stop Communists we must be careful not to attack the majority of faithful ministers and church-goers. We must merely search out those who back Moscow right down the line."

Red Affiliations

Mr. Arens said to the committee:

In view of the Secretary's repudiation of the information conveyed respecting the National Council of Churches of Christ in America, the chairman (Rep. Francis E. Walter, D., Pa.), issued a statement to the effect that the leadership of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America had hundreds, or at least over one hundred, affiliations with Communist fronts and causes. Since then we have made careful, but yet incomplete, checks, and it is a complete understatement.

"Thus far, of the leadership of the National Council of Churches of Christ in America, we have found over 100 persons in leadership capacity with either Communist-front records or records of service to Communist causes. The aggregate affiliations of the leadership, instead of being in the hundreds as the chairman first indicated, is now according to our latest count, into the thousands, and we have yet to complete our check, which would certainly suggest on the basis of the authoritative sources of this committee, that the statement that there is infiltration of fellow-travelers in churches and educational institutions is a complete understatement."

Spellman Statement

Rep. Donald L. Jackson, R., Calif., a member of the same committee, charged that some newspapers last Friday twisted the words of Cardinal Spellman of New York into a "defense" of those who had criticized the Air Force manual. The Cardinal, in his statement referring to Protestant chaplains with whom he was associated in war time, said he would "deplore it if any unfair deductions from general accusations were interpreted to reflect in any way on their loyalty to our country or on the loyalty of the general body of ministers whom they represent."

Rep. Jackson called Cardinal Spellman's attention to the misinterpretation of his statement as a defense of those who had criticized the Air Force manual. He received from Cardinal Spellman a telegram in reply which said:

"I cannot understand how some of the press distorted my statement. I respect the fact that Congressman Walter, you and other members of your committee have rendered outstanding service in exposing Communist activities."

It is indeed on the whole an unfortunate controversy, and maybe the clergymen who aired it publicly in the first place would have been better advised if they had written privately to the Defense Department and called attention to ambiguous paragraphs or to those which might better have been omitted. ## AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

I asked myself why my mysterious, whimsical, inconsistent profession spread oceans of ink on enough white paper to swaddle the whole globe advertising Frank Sinatra, free, but boggles at spelling out the name of some virtuous, useful citizen who is building fine homes for his desirable Americans of the kind who fight the wars and keep their families together and submit to the exaltation of a bawling Hollywood scamp.

I confess an aversion to Sinatra on social and moral grounds, but that is not why I single him out. I would be willing to substitute an utterly meaningless TV "personality" called Jack Paar whose impudent salute to Fidel Castro on the "air" which belongs to all of us and whose paltry spats with his employer, our journalism or political developments, I am not totally sincere in these questions because I know by instinct, though not by knowledge, that such people and their shrewish tantrums and pouts constitute "news" or "feature material" by our own arbitrary judgment. Sinatra went tearing around the world in hot pursuit of a female who knew he was a married man and absconding father of small children, but we, of journalism, not the public, took the immoral initiative in treating them as figures in a "romance." We and the music trade have degraded and narrowed that word and "passion" to mean sordidness and nasty conduct so long that by now only a few eccentric scholars on the copy desk know what they used to mean.

What has come over us that Jack Paar gets verbatim treatment, even editorial consideration when he flounders off the TV to sulk and in protest because some person with a sense of decency rare in radio-TV struck out of his broadcast a laborious, disgusting gag on a topic which respectable men and women politely avoid as humor and repartee.

It is an indicative accident that both Paar and Sinatra found Havana so pleasant, Paar in the frightful agony of the Castro massacre and Castro's enmity toward the United States with Lucky Luciano as

But we know all these facts, they are in our files and even in the confidential data of Edgar Hoover's bureau. And yet we, of journalism, have had so little respect for the intelligence and decency of the public that we spread their publicity over square miles of newsprint.

Would Paar's dispute with his employer over a dirty, mechanical "joke" merit even the smallest mention if we of the newspapers and magazines had not knowingly built up a dull, vulgar buffoon?

Why have we exalted Arthur Godfrey with his silly imitation of Will Rogers' affected, professional drawl, a practiced art which the newspapers glibly gobbled as a droll shrewdness? It is Rogers' due to admit that he, or possibly some "writer" such as F. D. Roosevelt relied on for his hot lies, did manage to capsule wisdom into little doses of words. But the adulation which we lavished on Rogers was so extravagant that we made ourselves look servile and stupid. However, stingy though he was with the greatest income of his time in entertainment, Rogers did have the delicacy to keep out of public knowledge any mean little spats with his employees such as Godfrey thrived upon in building himself into a false renown as a great and patient patron of ingrate little proteges.

Prizefighters, ballplayers, promoters, coaches and football teams have been painted with a false renown and importance by the press alone by our own volition. They become dignitaries, great entities, able to command the presence of newspaper reporters at the beck of their press agents. But in sensible days we barely let them into the city room and sport side and filed their trashy communications on the littered floors.

Our "values" need revision. A man who builds fine homes for Americans to shame the shabby cells and hovels of Moscow's present elation is an important American. He contributes to our peace and comfort, our superiority and success. But if he wants a few lines of free recognition he has to hire a tenor and a herd of elephants.

The longer I am in this beloved mixed-up calling of mine the less I understand our standards in news and morals. (Copyright, 1960, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Think It Through.

E. F. HUTTON
THE GENERAL AND HIS GENERALS

A big bully wouldn't likely want to pick a duel with a peace-loving chap who wasn't threatening him, even if the bully knew he had the best shooting irons, and was sure he would win, provided he also knew he was going to get badly shot up himself, and might get one right between the eyes.

Seems like this sorta puts in everyday language the hassle between General Ike and his generals about the Commies and us.

The generals say that Krushy has the best shooting irons, and that we should have the best pronto. That sounds sensible, but before this hassle gets us all mad at each other, there is something to be said for Ike's idea — that if we have a deterrent that deters, we don't necessarily have to match every weapon the bully has.

This is the distinction between "capability" and "intention."

A burglar who is a crack shot would choose some other home to burgle than one whose owner is a plucky guy, known to have a good shotgun by his bed. The burglar may think he has a pretty sure thing in a midnight attack, but he doesn't fancy the chance of getting buckshot in his face.

I don't blame the generals. They are experts, and doing their duty. We should listen to them. But it's possible that Ike knows the overall jigsaw puzzle better than any one of them.

Jury Reports Near Violence In Finch Trial

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Wrangling by jurors in the Finch murder trial almost erupted into violence as the seven women and five men deliberated to a bitter, exhausting deadlock.

This was the report today of two members of the panel—one a woman who said that at one point a male juror threatened to throw her out a window of the locked jury room.

The jury was dismissed Saturday after failing to agree whether Dr. R. Bernard Finch, 42, and his mistress, Carole Tregoff, 23, had plotted and killed with a bullet-in-the-back the doctor's estranged wife, Barbara Jean Finch.

The wealthy surgeon and his onetime receptionist broke into sobs when the jurors announced they were deadlocked. They face another trial. A date will be set Thursday.

While all seemed outwardly serene during the eight days of deliberations, reports of shouts, insults and near-violence came from two jurors—Louis Werner and Genevieve Lang.

Mrs. Lang Threatened

Mrs. Lang, 34, a secretary, said a male juror turned the locked jury room into a panic Friday when he shouted at her: "I'm going to pick you up and throw you out the window."

She said the juror, whom she did not identify, started "to pick up the jury table—he started to take off his coat—I was scared. One woman ran for the buzzer and buzzed for the bailiffs. Another screamed hysterically at the door. It was terrifying to realize we were locked in that way."

After bailiffs quelled the dispute, Mrs. Lang said: "I want off the jury." However, she stayed on the panel and the next day they announced the deadlock—10 to 2 to convict the balding surgeon of second-degree murder and 8-4 to acquit his pretty mistress.

Voted Convictions

Werner, 66, retired sales manager, identified the two male jurors standing between Finch and a five-year to life prison sentence as Dolores Jaimez, 33, and Eddie Lindsay, 28, both Los Angeles postal employees.

"We voted our convictions," said Jaimez.

"Basically, the other members of the jury just didn't accept other people's views and argued irrationally," said Lindsay, a Negro.

Finch and Carole remain in county jail. Their attorneys say they will ask for their release on bail. The district attorney says he will oppose such a move.

Heads Central Business Drive On Membership

WILLIAM FAIRLEY

The Central Businessmen launched their annual membership drive aiming for two hundred members this year, William Fairley, membership chairman announced today. Central Area merchants received their membership forms today by mail, and will get a follow-up reminder later in the week.

Plans of the drive and initial progress will be reported at Tuesday's business meeting, to be held at 7:30 p. m. at the Crystal Gardens.

Advantages to members were outlined in the letter pointing out the banquet plans for April 25, the series of information and entertainment programs planned for the year, the fact that members whose families spend over half a million dollars yearly will support other members, that co-ordinated promotions stretch the advertising dollar through volume ad rates and more effective sales, and that through proper merchandising the area can get back some of the business going outside of Kingston. One store in Poughkeepsie has over 4,000 active accounts in the Kingston area.

WEST HURLEY — Parents of boys between the ages of 8 and 18 are invited to a special meeting of Boys Scouts of America at West Hurley Firehouse Monday at 8 p. m.

Adults are needed to fill committee positions and supervisory posts to continue an active Scout program. Anyone in the area who does now or will have a boy for Cub Scouts or interested in joining Boy Scouts should attend this meeting. Without volunteers the troop is in danger of losing its charter.

Dr. Porter, dentist of Phoenixia spoke at the March meeting of the pre-school section of P-TA. The next meeting will be held April 12 at West Hurley School.

Donald C. Baines, principal of West Hurley will be speaker at the March 22 meeting of the West Hurley P-TA. He is asking parents to return the questionnaire the children brought on topics they would like to discuss. All parents with children in this school may submit questions regarding curriculum, marks or any problem pertaining to school and its workings.

Brownies of Troop 89 entertained their parents and the teachers of West Hurley School at tea in the multi-purpose room recently. The program had been planned and carried out by the Brownies under the leadership of Mrs. John Blatter assisted by Mrs. Clarence Anderson. The Brownies made the cookies, set the tea table and acted as hostesses.

Brownies of Troop 89 celebrat-

Deadline March 26 Reschedule P-TA For Youth Council Meeting Next Week

Amateur Contest

Saugerties Parent - Teachers Association meeting originally scheduled Thursday has been postponed one week.

Thursday, March 24 at 8 p. m. in Saugerties High School, Washington Avenue, the meeting will feature a panel discussion concerning relationships with parents and children.

Robert Moser, a member of the Saugerties school faculty will act as moderator of a panel consisting of four parents and four students.

Those participating are Mrs. Louis Spada, Mrs. Frederick Sandner, Dr. Irving Dreishpoon, Kenneth Magyar, Cynthia Matthews, Susan Mills, George Popowicz, and John A. Snyder.

The panel will discuss the record "Seriously Speaking," narrated by Sam Levinson, humorist and former teacher.

$245 Paid in Fines

Total receipts in Saugerties Town Justice of the Peace Glenford Myers' traffic court during the weekend was $245, all fines paid by traffic violators on the Thruway.

Seventeen paid fines totaling $234 for speeding violations, one paid a $10 fine for insufficient lights.

Most of the speeding violators were apprehended by the use of radar.

Surprised at Birthday

Mrs. Elton L. Johnson of 14 Robinson Street, Saugerties was the guest of honor at a surprise birthday party Saturday night at her home.

Those attending besides her husband, were Mr. and Mrs. Ed-

PUPPET SHOW AT WEST CAMP—A puppet show, "Fantasy of Easter" was conducted by Brownies of Troop 133, Malden-West Camp as part of the troop's observance of National Girl Scout Week, Saturday afternoon at West Camp Firehouse. Those participating, holding puppets they made, are (l-r) Elinor Heese, Diane Lewis, Debby Strish, Virginia Heese, Diane Heller and Linda Linzey. Mrs. Robert Lewis and Mrs. Carl Heese Jr., both of West Camp, are leaders of the troop. (Freeman photo)

Fish, Game Club To Plant Trout

Saugerties Fish and Game Club will distribute more than 1,500 brown trout to be delivered by the State Conservation Department Wednesday 11:30 a. m. at Saugerties Municipal Auditorium, Carlton B. King, club trout chairman said today.

The trout will be planted in Saugerties area streams.

"We need every member that is available at that time to help in the distribution of the trout," King said.

Town Notes

Mrs. Gaglianella announced that final tabulation of the cookie sales indicated that the goal of 24 boxes per scout had been reached.

Legion Official Asks Area Posts To Gain Members

American Legion posts in Ulster County now have a total membership of 2,065 in their current drive, it was reported today by Thomas Bohan, membership chairman for the Ulster County American Legion.

He pointed out, however, that the county quota is 2,605 and urged all posts in the county to push toward this goal during American Legion Week, March 15-19, and attempt to bring their drive to a successful conclusion by the end of the week.

Bohan asked that each honorably discharged veteran who served during the war periods apply for 1960 membership. Those eligible must have served between April 6, 1917, and Nov. 11, 1918 (World War I); Dec. 6, 1941, to Sept. 2, 1945 (World War II); and Jan. 25, 1950, to July 27, 1953 (Korean Conflict).

Bohan said today that the Legion has dedicated its membership during the past 41 years, its ideals and purposes to unswerving devotion to the cause of preserving the American way of life, its freedoms and its constitution, by combating in "every conceivable manner the vicious doctrines of Communism."

He said that the Legion, nearly three million strong, represents all phases of life in the United States, comprised of veterans of three wars who fought to preserve the freedom of mankind and, by these "patriotic labors, have greatly benefited the welfare and security of our country."

He called on all citizens and organizations "to join in paying tribute to God and country and the American Legion for the peace and freedom we enjoy."

Bohan urged that the national flag be displayed widely during the week, marking the celebration of the 41st birthday of the Legion.

Radio Newscaster Says He Resigns

MOUNT KISCO, N. Y. (AP)—Announcer Charles Avery interrupted a news program on radio state WVIP Sunday.

"Bulletin, bulletin, . . . Charles Avery announces his resignation."

A staff engineer cut him off the air.

The news program was heard locally on WGHQ, Saugerties.

Avery put on his coat and left the studio. The engineer, the only person left at the studio, played records.

Richard Doan, director of the New York Herald Tribune Radio Network, of which WVIP is a member, said Avery was a temporary announcer.

Doan said he hired Avery, 41, of Katonah, last December to fill in for Ed Robbins, who has been ill.

Doan said he told Avery recently the station would no longer need him since Robbins would return soon. Doan said Avery appeared to take the news amiably at that time.

Defense Official Says Russia Not Ready to Attack

By JOE F. KANE

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pentagon's top military scientist says the Soviet Union has more missiles than the United States "but we have more of everything else."

Dr. Herbert F. York added "even the more missiles is not a permanent situation."

York, director of defense research and engineering, again said defense officials feel that at no time in the future could the Soviet Union attack the United States with impunity.

York and others stated their views Sunday during television interviews.

Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, former Army chief of staff, said he believed "the military trend is against us. And unless we change that trend we will soon be faced with trying to live with Communism as an inferior. I don't believe that can be done."

Thomas G. Lannier Jr., World War II flying ace who recently quit as an executive of an aircraft firm so he could criticize the administration's defense policies, said President Eisenhower does not seek the advice of key military men in defense planning.

Sen. Clair Engle (D-Calif.) said that in buying defense "security ought to control—not the budget figures." He said there wasn't any question that the budget figures have been a controlling factor as

SCOUT SUNDAY AT MT. MARION—In observance of Girl Scout Sunday at Plattekill Reformed Church, Mt. Marion, members of Troop 66, sponsored by the church, and Troop 45 of Mt. Marion Civic Association participated in the Sunday worship service of the church. Participating are (l-r) Gayle Halloran, Nancy Hornbeck, Margaret Kearney, Karen Halloran, Carol Wolsen, the Rev. Henry L. Reinwald, pastor; Gail Tonnesen, Pamela Olive, Cheryl Hulme, Bonnie Haslam, Sandra Weeks, and Karen Reynolds. (Freeman photo)

Plattekill Parish Priest Seeks Aid For New Building

After four years of work with various churches in Rome and Palermo, Italy, the Rev. Anthony Sangrera, pastor of Our Lady of Fatima Chapel, Plattekill, told the parishioners Friday of his assignment to aid parishes throughout Colorado and Mexico in building churches.

The pastor called Sunday morning on the parishioners to participate in a Plattekill parish house renovation and a building program for a new church. The pastor's appeal, was voiced personally and was heard at two Holy Masses, starting at 9 and 10:30 o'clock. His statement stressed the need for labor, leadership and corporate parish cooperation.

Thirty parishioners met with the pastor to plan entertainment for an event that will honor the pastor, the first resident priest. Frank Ruggerio will head a large committee of men and Mrs. Joseph Vega was named chairman for the woman's committee. A journal is in circulation.

There will be a reorganization meeting of the Holy Name Society after Friday night's Lenten service at 8 o'clock. Monday night's choir rehearsal began at 7 o'clock at the chapel. Committee members for the building fund committee met after Wednesday night's Lenten service.

Guest Speaker Is Named for Lenten Series Downtown

REV. CLARENCE W. SMITH

The first in a series of three union Lenten services will be held Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in the Trinity Methodist Church, Wurts and Hunter Streets.

The ensuing services will then be held at two week intervals in the other cooperating churches. There are three churches which sponsor these union services each year — Trinity, Rondout Presbyterian and Ponckhockie Union Congregational. All of the pastors will take part in the program. The theme "Three High Hours" has been given to this year's series.

At this first service, the Rev. Clarence W. Smith, pastor of the Rondout Presbyterian Church, will preach. His topic will be "Satan's Hour," based on the verse from St. Luke 22: "This Is Your Hour, and the Power of Darkness." He will develop the theme that Satan does have his hour, but that God has all eternity.

The Rev. Mr. Smith is a retired member of the New York Annual Conference of the Methodist Church. He retired in 1955 after a seven-year pastorate in the Methodist Church of Lake Mahopac. Since that time he has been associated with the Fourth Quarterly Conference of Trinity Methodist Church, Kingston, while serving as minister to the Rondout Presbyterian Church. He has also served the First Methodist Church, Pleasantville, and the Methodist Church, Coxsackie, during his career. The Rev. Mr. Smith and his wife make their home in Connelly.

The pastor of Ponckhockie Congregational Church, the Rev. Henry Hansen, will participate in the Lenten service on March 17. The next service in the series will be held in the Ponckhockie Church Thursday, March 31, with the Rev. Ralph E. Hughes of Trinity Church preaching. The final service will be a Maundy Thursday Communion, April 14, at the Rondout Presbyterian Church. At this time, the Rev. Mr. Hansen will deliver a communion meditation entitled "The Hour of Fellowship."

The offerings which are received at the services will be donated to the Children's Home, 77 East Chester Street. The public may participate in this special downtown Lenten series.

Actor Who Plays DA Held on Two Charges

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actor William Talman, the district attorney who always loses to Perry Mason in the TV series, faces narcotics and morals charges with seven others arrested at a Hollywood party.

Raiders said they found Talman and other nude or partly nude and said "all were high on Marijuana."

Among those arrested Sunday were television producer James H. Baker and Richard Reibold, 31, in whose apartment the arrests were made.

Talman, 45, said that he just stopped by the apartment for a drink. "There must be some kind of a mistake," he said. He added: "This could ruin me."

Sheriff's Capt. R. B. Brooks said his office had had Reibold's apartment under surveillance for some time. Raiders said they found several marijuana cigarettes and a quantity of loose marijuana lying around.

Baker, 39, said that he didn't even smoke tobacco cigarettes. All eight of those arrested—four men, four women—denied the charges. They were booked on suspicion of possession of marijuana and lewd vagrancy, a morals count.

The eight were later freed on $1,050 bail each. Among those arrested was actress Lola Dewitt, who refused to give her home address. She gave, instead, the address of her attorney in a downtown office building.

Adlai to Speak

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP)—Adlai Stevenson will make his first major speech in this country here April 12 after returning from a two-month tour of Latin America. The two-time Democratic presidential nominee is expected to discuss foreign policy issues in the University of Virginia Founders' Day address.

2 EASY STEPS

1. Use a firm step ladder. Measure from top of rod to where draperies will fall (bottom of window molding or floor). Add one inch to this measurement to cover drapery rod. Write this figure down. A ceiling to floor installation is meant where ceilings are low...for a window wall, or for problem windows.

2. Widths for draw draperies are optional. You may want them to cover only the outside edge of the window frame or the entire wall. If rods are not installed, measure width of area to be covered. Add 10 inches for fullness, overlap. If rods are installed, measure distance between ends of rods and add 10 in.

PSC Brings Suit Against 2 Saugerties Milk Haulers

State Public Service Commission announced today it has brought suit in Albany County Supreme Court calling for the assessment of penalties against 14 milk hauling truckers, including two in Saugerties. In the aggregate, the commission is suing the firms for $41,000.

The Saugerties defendants and charges against each and amounts sought as penalties are:

C & E Trucking Corp., RD, Saugerties, failure to file effective contracts, $2,000.

State Tank and Truck Corp., RD 3, Saugerties, failure to file contract, $1,000.

Initiates Probe

At the same time, the PSC disclosed that it has initiated a general investigation into the operations of authorized milk carriers to determine whether there is substantial difference in the operations of those certified as common carriers and those holding authority as contract carriers. This move is aimed at a possible revision of commission regulation of truckers engaged in the transportation of bulk milk.

The commission also announced that it has accepted payments totaling $700 as out-of-court settlement of other actions instituted by it against two truckers who have been transporting milk in New York State without legal authority.

Some of the court actions announced today result from violations discovered by PSC investigators when a road block was set up on Thruway approaches to the Tappan Zee Bridge to detect which truckers were using wholly intrastate routes for the transportation of milk.

Makes Charges

In other instances, the commission is charging the truckers with failure to bill shippers in accordance with terms of filed tariffs or contracts, failure to issue proper shipping documents or failure to comply with various commission rules and regulations.

Truckers engaged in the transportation of bulk milk over interstate routes are exempt from state regulation. Those whose routes are wholly intrastate are under PSC jurisdiction, however.

According to the commission, some truckers have been attempting to simulate an interstate operation in order to avoid regulation by leaving the Thruway at Suffern, entering New Jersey for a very short distance and then returning to the Thruway at the same interchange, continuing to New York City. Such action is viewed by the commission as being a subterfuge since the actual transportation is made over routes entirely within the state.

23 Authorized

There are 23 firms authorized by the PSC to transport milk in tank trucks with the state. Of these, nine are certified as common carriers. The remaining 14 hold permits under which they are authorized to transport bulk milk for shippers with whom they have contracts. Most of the milk haulers operate primarily from upstate dairy regions to New York City. All 23 have been made parties to the investigation of operating practices and those holding permits as contract carriers have been directed to show cause why they should not be reclassified as common carriers. Public hearings at that proceeding will begin at 10 a. m. Tuesday, May 3, at its Albany office, 55 Elk Street, before Motor Carrier Referee Joseph J. Gottlieb.

Red Cross Will Reach Snowbound Families Today

By NOEL YANCEY

WEST JEFFERSON, N.C. (AP)—Air and ground mercy missions to snowbound mountain families in North Carolina, Tennessee and Virginia were expected to be all but completed today.

North Carolina Gov. Luther Hodges flew over the stricken area Sunday and told reporters: "I think you can say to the whole world that the situation is in hand."

The Red Cross said it expected to reach the last of 1,500 snowbound families today.

At least two weather-connected deaths were reported.

A break in the weather Sunday sent rescue teams throughout the area carrying Red Cross food packets, bagged coal and medical supplies.

C. W. Lee, a highway department engineer from Raleigh, said all paved roads were open in Allegheny, Ashe and Avery and Watauga counties. He said most unpaved roads also were open.

Eight helicopters shuttled over the area which averages three feet of snow and drifts up to 35 feet. Twenty Army Jeeps and three Weasels, Army half-track snow vehicles, joined the equipment already in use, including a 135 road clearing machine.

Ulster Divers Make Plunge at Williams

Members of the Ulster Divers Club made a successful dive in the icy waters of Williams Lake on Sunday afternoon, but they were unable to locate a mechanical ice cutting machine which was the object of the dive.

William Mills said the machine has been on the lake bottom for about nine years, and divers yesterday were handicapped by several feet of silt. The group did retrieve shovels, chairs and an anchor.

Taking part with Mills in the dive were Thomas Maines, Thomas Waters, David Lasher and Jerry Klemm, of Kingston, and William Parker, New Paltz. Attending the dive were Ted Wiands, Richard Grant, Edward Muller, Edward Nitch, members and William T. Mills, club mascot.

Fires Kill Six Persons In State Over Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Fires

killed six persons in New York State over the weekend and flames in a hot water heater indirectly took six other lives.

Traffic accidents during the period from 6 p. m. Friday to midnight Sunday claimed four victims.

In addition, a railroad engineer was hit by a train and killed.

A gas burner consumed the oxygen in a Yonkers apartment Saturday and five children and an adult babysitter perished.

The dead were Mrs. Jean Wicht, 36, and Theresa, 5, Joseph, 3, Margaret, 2, Vincent, 7, and Gerard Alfano, 15 months. Mrs. Theresa Alfano, 26, said she left her children in the care of Mrs. Wicht while she visited friends.

Three elderly persons died in a fire that swept three frame dwellings in Albany Sunday morning.

John G. Storrer, 70, his wife Louella, 76 and her sister, Mrs. Carrie Kaibflesch, 81, died in the blaze. Firemen said Mr. and Mrs. Storrer apparently tried to aid Mrs. Kaibflesch, who was blind.

State Milk

briefly on their runs solely to create the appearance they were operating interstate, the PSC said.

In the report of the milk-licensing committee, members noted that Rockefeller vetoed last year a bill that would have eliminated this provision. At the same time, he called for the study that produced the recommendation today.

The committee said the present law had "so far eliminated any effective competition as to create monopolistic or quasi-monopolistic conditions."

Dealers operating under these conditions can be expected to relinquish them "only with reluctance," the committee said.

The committee also proposed that the agriculture commissioner given unquestioned power to investigate the financial responsibility of applicants for milk licenses.

Would Pay Farmers

This would cover not only the dealer's ability to provide necessary equipment but also to pay the farmer from whom he buys the milk.

The commissioner also would be given new authority to act against unfair trade practices.

The committee said liberalization or removal of territorial restrictions on licenses undoubtedly would increase inter-market competition among dealers in the state.

It noted that three major dealers in metropolitan markets were operating rather extensively in upstate markets. The dealers, identified by the committee as Borden's, the Dairyman's League, and National Dairy Products Co., purchase milk from farmers and resell it to wholesalers or retailers.

The study committee pointed out that, of 16 applications for licenses received in 1957 and 1958, 11 had been refused on grounds that destructive competition would result.

Prominent Banker Dies

SARANAC LAKE, N. Y. (AP)—Raleigh Hansl, 73, lawyer, banker and former government official, died at Will Rogers Memorial Hospital Sunday night after a lengthy illness.

Hansl, a native of San Antonio, Tex., was associated for years with J. P. Morgan and Co. and also served as treasurer of the Foreign Commerce Corp. of America and as executive secretary of the Mercantile Bank of the Americas Inc.'s syndicate committee, which organized and operated the Bank of Central America Inc.

Complainant Absent

William R. Douglas, 18, of 75 Abel Street, was arrested Saturday by Theodore Gallop, of 60 East Strand, on a third degree assault charge at that address. Gallop failed to appear against him in city court today.

Financial and Commercial

market held a spotty advance early this afternoon in moderate trading.

Gains of fractions to a point among leading issues outnumbered losers in the same range.

Rails continued their recovery into the fourth straight session as prospects for revenue gains over a year ago looked good to analysts. Generally higher were non-ferrous metals, oils, farm implements, aircrafts and mail order-retails.

Motors, steels and utilities turned mixed. Chemicals and airlines were mostly lower. Drugs and building materials were mixed.

The market was a little higher in early trading but trimmed gains as the session wore on.

Corporate bonds were slightly higher.

U.S. government bonds rose a little.

TRUCK CRASHES ENGINE—Gordon Cornell, 20, of Prattville, driver of a trailer-truck, owned by J. A. Carman, of Prattville, was booked for alleged failure to stop or heed a crossing signal on Delaware Avenue near Murray Street, after the above mishap Saturday afternoon.

The engine, hauling a freight over the New York Central's mountain branch, was operated by Frank Falatyn, 68, of 12 Cottage Row. Police reported no injuries. City court hearing of the charge against Cornell today was put over to March 21.

Trust Co. Branch

opened. Munroe Burger served as assistant treasurer at the branch from 1924 until his retirement on Oct. 1, 1945.

Facilities Increased

From the day of its opening need for banking facilities in the central section of Kingston was evident and in 1924 it became necessary to remodel the vaults and increase the facilities. In the September 1921 statement of the Kingston Trust Company total assets were reported at over $2 1/2 million, with close to $1 million being on deposit in the Central Branch. By July 1922 the Central Branch deposits had passed the $1,000,000 mark. When the 35th anniversary of the Central Branch was observed in 1955, deposits had reached $8,605,346 at the three banking houses including the Phoenixia Branch which was opened on Sept. 3, 1953, and today total resources are listed at over $25,000,000.

Again facilities at the branch were cutgrown and on November 17, 1952 the cornerstone of the present banking house was laid. At that time the entire bank was remodeled and enlarged. The third story of the former Eichler Hotel was removed and the Central Branch took over the entire building, moving its book-keeping and auditing department to the second floor where the most modern accounting machines were added. On June 6, 1953 the new bank was formally opened with new vaults, a large addition on Dederick Street and two drive-in windows. Air-conditioning was installed and all facilities were increased. The vaults and safe deposit box department was the largest and most modern in this section of the state.

In 1955 a Consumer Loan Department was added with Joseph W. Robertson in charge. This department has charge of financing of cars, appliances and F.H.A. loans.

Since opening in 1920 various departments have been added until today the Central Branch offers all banking services to its customers, including one of the largest Christmas Club accounts in the city.

From the modest beginning with three employees the Central Branch of the Kingston Trust Company has grown until its staff now numbers thirty-six.

Officers at the Central Branch are:

Vice President and manager Ernest LeFevre and vice president William S. Miller who have been associated with the branch since 1920; assistant vice president William C. M. Mulhern, since 1927; assistant vice president Joseph W. Robertson, since 1955; assistant treasurer George C. Bode, since 1943; assistant treasurer Walter K. Hubbard, since 1930 and assistant treasurer William A. Thiel, since 1953.

Other employees are: Mathilde B. Manuel, secretary; Bertha J. Jindricks, safe deposit custodian; Samuel J. Benicase and Gerald Trought, proof machine operators; Patricia O'Halloran, general ledger bookkeeper; Elaine M. Cannon, Cora Dahl, Sarah B. Dietz, Marie Hasner, Ethel H. Lowe, Catherine McCloskey, Sandra Phillips, Emmy Rojewski, bookkeepers.

Florence Roosa, Geraldine P. Terpening and Kathleen D. Woods, clerks; Henry J. Coppo, Joan L. Everett, Emma F. Houghtaling, Edmund A. Kavanah, Monica Laemmermann, Edward F. Mains and Florence Taylor, tellers.

William J. Lawrence, consumer loan officer; Genevieve R. Faltermann, Patricia E. Gallagher, Diane Liefer and Eileen Steltz, consumer loan. Frank J. Wolnoski, building superintendent.

Police Lists Are To Be Read at Meeting March 21

A police board meeting is slated to be postponed from Thursday, St. Patrick's Day, to Monday, March 21, when civil service eligibility lists are to be submitted, Mayor Edwin F. Radel said today.

An eligibility list for appointment of a sergeant to succeed Frank E. Sammons, who died March 8, contains the single name of Patrolman William F. Snyder, of 71 South Manor Avenue. Officer Snyder scored 80.4 in the civil service test.

The list for appointment of a patrolman contains the names of three men: Donald Gallagher, 140 Murray Street; Edgar J. Peterson Jr., 24 Browning Terrace, and Thomas J. Coffey, 129 Hurley Avenue.

They placed second, third and fifth, respectively on the list, and their ratings were; Gallagher, 83; Peterson, 80; and Coffey, 76.

Lewis J. Keator, 3 Teller Street, and Richard J. Dempsey, 7 First Avenue, were appointed from the list Feb. 18.

The starting salary is $4,640, which after three years goes to $5,000 under present salary scale.

5 Men Involved

the incident are from the Middletown area.

Edward Reiss, 45, was captured at the scene of the shooting when he assisted in removing Fry from his truck to the Dixie Diner on Route 17N a short distance away.

The other four men made their getaway in a 1952 sedan but smashed into a tree several miles from the scene of the shooting. Captured at the scene of the wreck was Glenn Cutler, 20.

The other three—James Gibson, 21, Robert Townsend, 19, and Bristol—took to the woods. Bristol was carrying the .38 caliber Smith & Wesson revolver with which Fry was shot.

Gibson and Townsend were taken by state police at Townsend's home on South Plank road.

Bristol, still carrying the pistol, was captured about 4:30 p. m.

All five were charged with assault first degree and committed to the Orange County jail, Goshen.

Police said the men attempted to steal Fry's truck while he was sleeping in it. When he began arguing with them he was shot.

The men reportedly told police that they planned to hold up a tavern located directly across the highway from a state police barracks and wanted to wreck the truck as a diversionary action.

Fry told police that he thought the pistol was a toy gun.

All Jehovah's Witnesses Have Ministerial Status

Meeting at Kingston Municipal Auditorium this weekend were over 1,000 ministers, all Jehovah's Witnesses.

Unusual is the fact that about 80 per cent of every congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses is composed of duly ordained ministers. The other 20 per cent are studying to become ministers. There is no clergy-laity arrangement, common in other religions.

No paid ministers these, each one is self-supporting. Sufficient time is spent at secular work to provide a living and all other times is devoted to ministerial duties.

Everyone Preaches
Patterning this arrangement after the early Christian conduct.

BRIDGE "Sure Thing" Nets Overtrick

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Three no-trump played by South would have been about as sure a contract as possible. South could run 10 top tricks any time he felt like it.

At five clubs South won the opening spade lead with the ace and drew trumps with two leads. If his next play had been a diamond finesse South would have gone down but he worked out a sure fire play for five that actually produced an overtrick.

All he did was to cash dummy's two spades and discard his jack of diamonds. Then he played the ace and queen of diamonds from dummy. East covered with the king and South ruffed. Then he went back to dummy with the last trump and discarded two of his hearts on the good diamonds.

Why was South's play a sure thing? Because he had planned to discard a heart if East did not put the king of diamonds on the queen. Then, if West held the king of diamonds he would make it but would never be able to gather in two heart tricks.

DE-PRESSING SAVINGS

Mrs. Prudence Purselock recently was delighted to discover some antique flat-irons in the attic. By heating them over a bonfire, she is able to smooth out some of the wrinkles in her family's clothes. She patiently puts up with all this in the mistaken notion that she's saving lots of money by not ironing electrically.

ACTUALLY, her "savings" won't even pay for the firewood she uses. With an automatic electric iron, she could iron her clothes for only 1½ cent per hour.

Beautifully ironed clothes, with so little work, and even less cost . . . that's just one more reason why the average family is using twice as much electricity today as in 1947.

Safety Hints

Wash hands after using insecticides, plant sprays or rat poison.

Never use cleaning fluids near a flame or in a poorly ventilated space.

Gas and kerosene stoves must never be used in a room that has scanty ventilation.

Electrical wiring, electric fixtures and gas fixtures should be checked regularly.

Loose rugs are dangerous. Secure them properly so that no one can slip or fall.

Obey all traffic regulations. They are made for our personal safety.

Check your vision and hearing regularly. Poor vision and hearing are the basis of many accidents.

Make sure all medicines are properly labeled. Read them carefully before taking or administering.

Keep knives and tools in regular safe places. Carelessness about the home and workshop results in cuts and bruises.

Accidents and illness require a doctor or a hospital. If you can't call a physician have someone do it for you.

Be sure medicines and all poisonous properties such as insecticides, cleaning fluids and poisons are in a high and safe place where children cannot reach them.

Shandaken Group Petitions Onteora Board for New School

A petition calling for a 7 to 10 room school for Shandaken township was submitted to the Onteora Central Schools Board of Education at its March meeting by Richard Kahil, secretary for the Committee for a Shandaken School.

The resolution was drafted at a meeting of about 40 Town of Shandaken residents held recently in the Town Hall at Allaben. The petition also recommends adding needed rooms at the Woodstock and West Hurley schools.

The committee has been organized to further plans for bringing about the building of an elementary school somewhere in the township. It plans several meetings in the future.

John McGrath of Phenicia and Rudy Frank of Shandaken were named co-chairmen. Dick Kahil of Mt. Tremper is secretary-treasurer and Dr. Sam Porter of Phenicia and Highmount is publicity chairman.

Petition

The committee has selected as its official name the "Shandaken Township School Committee." It presented the following petition to the Onteora Board:

"We, the Shandaken Township School Committee, representing the people of the Township of Shandaken, after a duly organized and well-attended meeting on March 3, unanimously voted to petition the Onteora Board of Education to approve the erection of a school in the Town of Shandaken.

"Statistics have been compiled by Watson Goodrich, administrative assistant on the staff of the Onteora Central Schools District, to the effect that there will be attending school by 1962-63, 280 children in grades kindergarten through sixth, in the Town of Shandaken. These figures do not make any allowance for any natural population growth. The 280 children referred to are now in existence.

"We have been advised by the school administration and the Board of Education that the present overcrowded conditions seriously handicap the education of all children in the Onteora Central school district.

"Many of these small children are now required to travel extreme distances to reach school. This travel caused undue hardships for children in this age group. It is the opinion of this committee that transportation costs can be greatly reduced by the erection of a school in the township of Shandaken. This proposed new school would withdraw 280 K-6 children from the main school at Boiceville and would eliminate the costly auxiliary buildings now in use. This would subsequently eliminate the overcrowded conditions we are now faced with in the Onteora district.

"We in the Township of Shandaken are aware of the fact that the erection of this school will not entirely solve the overcrowded conditions in the district. We wish, at this time, to go on record of being in favor of supporting the additional needed classrooms in the communities of Woodstock and West Hurley as deemed necessary.

"Therefore, we the Shandaken Township School Committee, respectfully petition the Board of Education of the Onteora Central School District to construct a 7 to 10-room school building in the Township of Shandaken.

Second Annual Science Fair At Onteora School Tuesday

The second annual Science Fair sponsored by Onteora Central School will be held in the Boiceville building Tuesday evening, March 15. With entries expected from all grades from first to sixth, the Science Fair committee is hoping for a great variety of exhibits.

There are approximately 40 projects being prepared by the youngsters in the 1-6 grades and some of the areas covered by these projects will be "Kinds of Living Things," "Keeping Healthy," "Using Electricity," "Lifting and Moving Things," "The Earth and the Sky." Any original scientific or mathematical project will be welcomed.

The work will be exhibited at the Tuesday night meeting of the Onteora P-TA and will be judged and winners announced on the same evening. Prizes for first, second and third places will be awarded and a gift book certificate donated by the P-TA will be given to the winners.

The best exhibits from the fourth, fifth and sixth grades will be entered in the Mid-Hudson Science and Math Fair to be held at New Paltz on April 28.

The Science Fair committee includes: Irving Levine, chairman Paul Bierwisch, Janice Frankle, Dinah Schlesinger, Frank Hancock, Anne Kelly, Josephine Lowther, Thomas Fickus, consultant. Members of the science faculty will be the judges.

Jaynees Slate Fashion Show, Sewing Contest

Plans were announced for the second annual fashion show-sewing contest to be held April 23, at the monthly meeting of the Woodstock Jaynees held at the home of Pat Carr.

Mrs. Vangie Mallory was named chairman, with Anita Stork, Dolores Heck and Mary Graham on the committee.

The sewing contest will be open to the public with both junior and senior divisions.

Mrs. Ruth Kinns, Mrs. Doris Larson and Mrs. Bernice Baptiste were named to the nominating committee for the annual election of officers to be held in April.

A report on the recent Jay-teen dance was given by Mrs. Ruth Kinns. Plans were announced by the Jay-teens for a variety show to be held in the near future.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Mary Graham, Tuesday, April 5. All wives of Woodstock Jaynees are invited.

Poison Control Topic For Pre-School Group

The monthly meeting of the Onteora P-TA Pre-School Section on Tuesday, March 22, will discuss the topic, "Poisons and Their Control."

With the many accidents which occur to busily-exploring toddlers and the desire for more knowledge of preventatives and control of poisons, Mrs. Donald Munro, chairman, has arranged for the appearance of an excellent speaker.

Dr. William E. Askue, pediatrician and head of the Poison Control Center in Kingston, will speak on the subject. He will also show a film, "One Day Poison."

Miss Esther Schisa, Public Health Nurse and Mrs. Dunn, RN, will speak on Preventatives. The meeting will be held at 8 p. m. in the Home Economics Room in the Boiceville building. Refreshments will be served.

Jenkins Award To Be Announced At Onteora P-TA

An additional highlight of Tuesday night's Onteora P-TA program will be the presentation of the annual Jenkins Memorial Scholarship Award.

This award honors a member of the community who has shown an outstanding and continuing interest in children and youth. The amount of $25.00 is sent to the State Jenkins Memo-will be devoted to a discussion of the "Exceptional Child" which gets under way at 8 p. m.

Speakers on the program will include George Fernandez, curriculum coordinator of classes for the retarded in Ulster County; Mrs. Carolyn Smith, psychiatric social worker with the Ulster County Mental Health Center and John Ascarino, teacher at the George Washington School.

Pachner Painting

Purchased by Whitney

A large painting by Woodstock artist William Pachner has been purchased by the Whitney Museum of American Art, New York City, for the museum's permanent collection.

Recognition by the Whitney is the most recent honor accorded Pachner, whose work has gained increasing national attention in the last two years through awards and purchases for noted collections.

The painting will be lent by the Whitney Museum for display in Pachner's one-man show opening March 21 at the Krassner Gallery, New York City.

Plan Special Easter Program at Onteora

The Onteora P-TA will present a special Easter matinee entertainment for children featuring the Huguenot Dancers of New Paltz on Saturday, April 9, at 3 p. m. in the auditorium of the Boiceville school.

The group, consisting of New Paltz college and community adults, is well known throughout the area for its dance concerts for children, performing story-ballets complete with costumes and music.

"The Bunny Who Overslept" will be featured, as well as special dances by Alfred Douglas and his son, American Indians.

Town Notes

Crane Wilbur, who did the screenplay for the current spectacular "Solomon and Sheba" is a former Ulster County resident and is related to the Wilburs of the Willow area.

Margaret Phillips, leading lady in the off Broadway production of "Under the Sycamore Tree," the new play by Sam Spewack, is well known to Woodstock residents of the Maverick era. She was associated with Cecil Clovelly, circa 1940.

Principal Donald Baines of the West Hurley school will be the principal speaker at the next regular meeting of the West Hurley P-TA on Tuesday, March 29, at 8 p. m. in the school.

The Woodstock P-TA will conduct a sale of delicious hard candy about the first of April. There has been no major fund-raising activity this year and the proceeds from this sale will insure successful completion of the activities planned for the youngsters for the remainder of the school season.

Achievement Night

The Adult Education program at Onteora-Central School will hold its annual "Achievement Night" on Monday, April 4, at 7:30 p. m. with a diversified entertaining program in the auditorium in Boiceville. Ed Witko, director, announces that no dinner is planned this year, but coffee and dessert will be served in the cafeteria.

Roy Butz, a former teacher at Woodstock elementary school, who is Reading Co-ordinator for the Ulster County Board of Cooperative Services, will be the guest speaker at the April 7 meeting of the Woodstock P-TA.

Rescue Workers Confronted With Smoke Barriers

LOGAN, W. Va. (AP) — "That smoke is so thick down there you can stick out your finger and punch a hole in it," said Elmer Layne.

Layne 37, is a rescue team captain up from the black depths of a southern West Virginia coal mine where 18 men have been entombed for six days.

A rock fall and fire trapped the miners last Tuesday morning in the Island Creek Coal Co. No. 22 mine at nearby Holden, about 12 miles from the Kentucky border.

His face gray with dust, his white miner's hat and khaki shirt and pants streaked with black, the Bartley, W. Va., safety engineer told newsmen early today some of the obstacles rescuers have battled.

You have to crawl on your stomach about 150-200 feet to by-pass the still smoldering fire in the main tunnel.

At another point, you have to wade through knee-deep water for about 150 feet.

Island Creek President Raymond E. Salvati, who used to dig coal himself, began talking.

"There's something wrong with our ventilation system," he said grimly. "We can't get the air to do what it's supposed to do."

Someone asked the inevitable question: Are the men alive?

"I don't think there is any question about it," said Salvati.

"Those men are still alive and we are going to get them out."

New Holstein Herds Show Gain in State

Although an estimated 120,000 farms dropped out of the dairy business last year, foundations for 19,061 new herds of registered Holstein cattle were established.

The Holstein-Friesian Association of America reports that this compares to 18,948 U. S. dairymen who purchased registered Holstein seed stock for the first time in 1958.

Although small, an association spokesman said, the gain must be considered significant in the light of the trend toward fewer and larger dairy herds.

He traced the increased demand for registered Holsteins to the new interest in better cows which has accompanied the swing toward big-volume production.

Also a factor in the picture, he said, was a growing realization among commercial dairymen of the dollars-and-cents value of a "second cash crop" of purebred calves.

Pennsylvania led the nation last year with 2,527 new owners of registered Holsteins. New York, a close second, had 2,455.

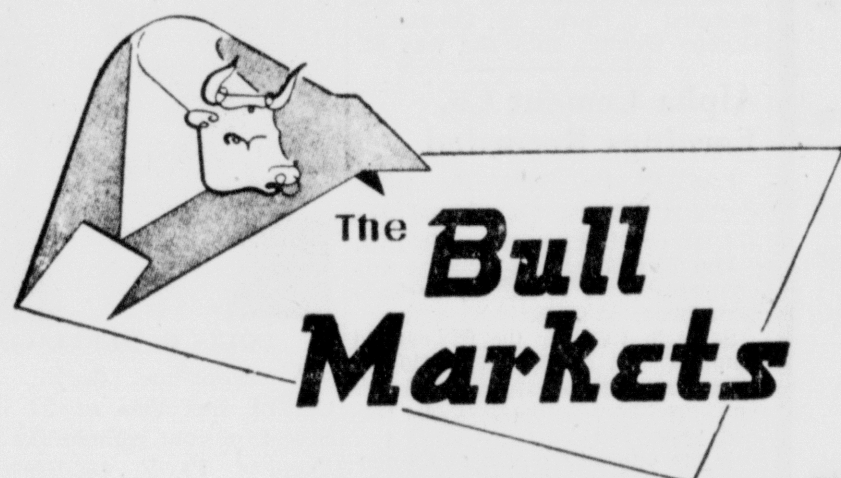

Also over the 1,000 mark were Wisconsin with 1,960, Ohio with 1,365, Minnesota with 1,025 and Michigan with 1,003.

FLYING FAN VS. SUB—Even as the race for space heats up, another race above and under the sea goes on. This is the race between constantly improving submarines—nuclear powered and armed with ballistic missiles—and better means of detecting and destroying them. One weapon under study is this fan aircraft, which combines conventional design with a vertical-lifting rotor inside its fuselage. Drawing courtesy Boeing Magazine.

WATER-WINGED CHASER—New look in high-speed ships is this hydrofoil craft, designed to find and destroy enemy submarines. The Navy is to award a construction contract for the first of its type this year. Equipped with homing torpedoes and long-range detection gear, the 115-foot, 110-ton craft will have retractable, fully submerged hydrofoils. Riding on its "wings" under full power, it will operate at far higher speeds than conventional ships. Drawing courtesy of Boeing Magazine.

Harry W. Hicks Died Saturday

LAKE PLACID, N. Y. (AP)—Harry Wade Hicks, 88, one of the founders of the Lake Placid Club as a retreat for educators, died Saturday in Placid Memorial Hospital.

Hicks aided Melville Dewey in establishing the club as a single cottage in 1896. It now is an exclusive resort with about 300 buildings.

Hicks also was a founder of the National Ski Assn. and the Eastern Amateur Ski Assn. He was secretary of the Lake Placid Club from 1896 until 1901 and served in an administrative capacity in the YMCA in Boston and New York City until 1905. He later joined the American Foreign Missions in New York

City and, from 1918 to 1921, was superintendent of the New York City Sunday Schools Interdenominational Commission. Hicks, a native of Oberlin, Ohio, and a graduate of Cornell University, returned to the club as secretary in 1921. He retired in 1956 but continued to live at the club.

His wife, who was club librarian, died in 1953.

HUDSON, N. Y. (AP) — Mrs. Helen Cochran Gates, blind but "happy as a lark" stressed that "life isn't so bad," after enjoying a chicken dinner to celebrate her 105th birthday.

Mrs. Gates ate the dinner Sunday in her room at a nursing home, where she has lived for 13 years. "She left not a crumb on the plate," Nurse Mary Ryan said.

Mrs. Gates is confined to her bed for all except an hour or two each afternoon. She was widowed in 1885 and operated a farm in Cossackie, Greene County, until she was 84.

Alpha Cement Co. Earnings Recorded

EASTON, Pa. (AP)—The Alpha Portland Cement Co. earned $7,379,000, or $4.14 per share, in 1959. The company said Sunday this compared with $4,906,000, or $2.75 per share, in 1958.

Sales in 1959 for the 65-year-old company hit a record $39,410,000, 19 per cent above 1958 and 11 per cent greater than the previous record year, 1956.

Alpha operates plants at Cementon and Jamesville, N. Y.; Martins Creek, Pa.; LaSalle, Ill.; Ironton, Ohio; St. Louis, Mo.; Birmingham, Ala.; and Lime Kiln, Md.

Party Candidate For Rosendale Trustee Contest

LOUIS G. DEFELICE

A Rosendale florist, Louis Gerard DeFelice of 27 James Street, of that community is the People's Party candidate for trustee of that village.

He is one of three candidates seeking the post in the village election Tuesday to be held at the village hall in the firehouse from 5 to 9 p. m.

DeFelice, associated with his father, Louis S. DeFelice in the operation of Rosendale Florists for the past 12 years, he attended St. Peter's School, Rosendale, and Kingston High School.

Also running for the two-year post are Louis V. Mastro, Democrat, and Albert Morelli, Independent.

Workman Is Killed In Fall Off Ladder

UTICA, N. Y. (AP) — Leroy F. Schuhart, 39, died in Utica Hospital Sunday of injuries suffered Thursday when he fell 28 feet from a ladder while repairing a traffic light in Herkimer. Schuhart was a maintenance employee of the village of Herkimer.

Alabama Leaders Act to Protect Rights of Negro

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Outbreaks of violence in Alabama—the latest a report that white men beat a Negro family with iron pipes—have led officials of two large organizations to urge President Eisenhower to step into the race situation in that state.

Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, telegraphed the President urging action by federal agencies to protect constitutional rights of Negro citizens in Alabama.

"In action of the federal government," Wilkins said, "could result in massacre on a scale that will dishonor the United States before the world."

Reuther Wires Ike

Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers Union, wired Eisenhower asking him "to instruct the attorney general to take immediate action in your name to restore law and order in Montgomery, Ala.," scene of frequent student demonstrations and numerous arrests.

The requests came during a weekend marked by the use of tear gas to break up a march of Florida A. & M. University students in Tallahassee, and rallies, prayer services and sitdown demonstrations at other places in the South.

Picketing in support of the Negro stand for integrated Southern eating facilities occurred in New Jersey, New York, Massachusetts, Michigan, Kansas and Colorado.

Wilkins originally asked for presidential action March 10. He said Sunday he was renewing the request because of a report of a Negro family was attacked in their Bessemer, Ala., home by white men wielding pipes.

Student Complaints

Robert Jones, 20, a college student, told police 9 or 10 white men broke into his house Saturday night and beat him, his mother Mattie Mae Jones, 45, and his sister Lavina, 18. The mother was hospitalized with a broken leg and finger. Jones and his sister were treated for bruises and abrasions.

George W. Barron, Bessemer

police chief, said he was investigating the beating report but had made no arrests. Jones was in a group of Negroes arrested at Birmingham several weeks ago while distributing anti-segregation literature.

Negro rallies in four states attracted nearly 40,000 persons. Rocket engines in ballistic missiles use fuel fast enough to empty a railroad tank car in two minutes.

Airlift Planes
Transport Troops
To Puerto Rico

FT. CAMPBELL, Ky. (AP)—Giant Globemaster transport planes took off early today from all parts of the nation to airlift paratroopers and infantrymen to Puerto Rico for two weeks of split-second maneuvers.

Exercise Big Slam-Puerto Pine, one of the largest airlifts of troops and equipment ever undertaken in peacetime, is designed to flex the muscles of this nation's atomic age defenses.

More than 18,000 troops, including Pennsylvania reservists and Utah National Guardsmen and 11,000 tons of equipment, are being flown by the Military Transport Service from 13 U.S. bases to the Caribbean commonwealth. Of these 8,000 paratroopers are stationed here with the 101st Airborne Division.

The troops are part of the nation's battle ready Strategic Army Corps. Chief purpose of the exercise, which will include preparations for a mock battle situation, is to test the speed with which MATS can rush troops to the world's trouble spots.

I'm On My Way

TO MY FIRST THOUSAND!

Yes, I opened an account at Kingston Savings Bank. The folks at the bank were very helpful and friendly, and suggested I take along some bank-by-mail envelopes so I can keep up my program of regular deposits, even when weather is bad or my husband is using the car. The bank even pays the postage both ways.

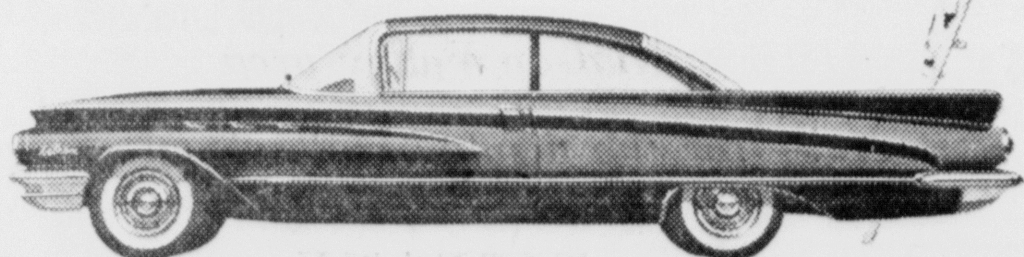

Why don't you become a "thousandaire," too?

U.S. SPACE SCHEDULE FOR 1960

The Missile:		The Mission:
INTERPLANETARY PROBE	VENUS, MERCURY, EARTH	To reach the orbit of Venus, test long-range communications and study make-up of space between earth and Venus.
WEATHER SATELLITE		To study cloud formations.
COMMUNICATIONS SATELLITE		To bounce radio signals from New Jersey to California by means of 10-story-high aluminized balloon.
RADIATION SATELLITE		To study radiation belts around the earth and test temperature controls.
LUNAR PROBE		To place satellite into orbit around the moon.
THREE OR FOUR EARTH SATELLITES		To study weather or communications; to measure radiation; to check effects of meteor dust on satellite in space.
MERCURY CAPSULE		To flight test Mercury capsule aboard 250-mile-range Redstone missile in arc-like short trip; also, similar test using Atlas ICBM.

BIG YEAR IN SPACE—If launchings go off according to schedule, 1960 will be the busiest year in space activity yet. National Aeronautics and Space Administration has announced a full line-up of scientific satellites and probes, shown in timetables above. Among the satellite shots will be two attempts to place a satellite in orbit around the moon.

The Missile:		The Mission:
MERCURY CAPSULE		To orbit one-ton Mercury capsule (two attempts); animal may be carried on one trip.
MERCURY CAPSULE		To bring capsule back through atmosphere after launching by Redstone (two attempts); man may possibly ride in second one.
LUNAR PROBE		To orbit satellite around the moon.
WEATHER, IONOSPHERE SATELLITES		To study weather; to study movements of ionosphere and its effects on long-range radio communications.
ALTITUDE PROBE		To sample different layers of the ionosphere from 5,000 to 10,000 miles up.
MERCURY CAPSULE		To recover capsule after short Redstone ride (three attempts); one will carry a man about 100 miles into space.
MERCURY CAPSULE		To orbit unmanned capsule.
INTERPLANETARY PROBE		To study electrified gases and magnetic fields in outer space.
SCIENTIFIC EARTH SATELLITES		To obtain profile of the ionosphere; to measure cosmic radiation; to study radiations from the sun.

Plans also call for firing a space probe into the orbit of the planet Venus—not to hit it, but to study guidance and long-range communication systems. Probably most exciting prospect is the first firing of a rocket with a man aboard in a 100-mile-high arc. This elude to a manned satellite will occur before the end of the year, according to announced plans.

The Old Medicine Man

By FRANK TRIPP

There's mighty little absolutely new under the sun. Decades before people set the stage for the medicine man right in their living rooms he was visiting their forebears with a line of chatter that endures to this day.

A wondrous institution was the old medicine man. His coming rivaled that of the little one-circus that plowed through mud from hamlet to hamlet.

His equipment was simple and compact. At best it was only a two-man outfit with a team and a gaudy enclosed wagon, the full-length tailboard of which dropped down and made the platform where the "doctor" lectured.

There would be the doc, often an imposing personality, and his assistant, as intriguing as the doc himself. The assistant had to be a versatile and subservient soul. Chances were he was a homeless roustabout rescued from a gin mill, barbered up, clothed and brought along to do the dirty work.

He cared for the horses and set the stage for the doc's grand entrance. If the show needed a demonstration of any sort he also was the horrible example who stepped from the gaping crowd, mounted the platform and exposed himself to the quips and jibes of the doc and also the remedy.

The liniment racket was a favorite of the medicine man. Country folks past mid-age were traditionally lame. Any sharp, stinging counterirritant, hot of clove or peppermint, "eased their joints." Any hard-to-take, "awful taster" elixir seemed good for something.

The liniment burned so much that they forgot their "rheumatics." The stomach and liver tonics always got results—out in the little square house with the crescent in the door. They got action of some kind and became repeat buyers.

THE LINIMENT MAN was an amusing gent; a clever entertainer and very wise. This kind of faker wasn't hurting anybody much—only their pocket-books—but there was another type who should have been strung to a tree. The ones who "cured" malignant disease.

If the doc was dispensing a cure for consumption (we hadn't heard it called tuberculosis yet) his assistant would assume a more dignified role. He would tell his life's story, suitably prompted by the doc. It might be how he was an emaciated walking skeleton, with one foot in a consumptive's grave. He planned his last hope on Doctor Gorgolis' Consumption Cure and was restored to perfect strength.

At this point he might lift a heavy weight or maybe twist a phony bar of iron. It would be revealed that this grateful man sold a profitable farm, joined Dr. Gorgolis and was now devoting his life to save sufferers from the dread scourge.

After this magnificent soul had been duly impressed upon the multitude, he stood ready to buy from the doctor the first bottle needed by anyone who lacked a dollar to start him on the road to health.

ONE OR TWO BOTTLES was the limit thus beneficently bestowed upon the community, whereupon doc would tell his philanthropic associate to "get the hell out of sight." Then doc would go into his song and dance in earnest. He'd recite case after case he had completely cured, read tear-jerking letters until, one by one, the gullibles pulled forth dollars.

Ere long the doc could convince even those with a frog in their throat that they were in the incipient stage of consumption—"and it is to you, my friends, who now stand at life's crossroad that I come as God's messenger to save you from a dreadful fate."

"Oh ye of little faith, your dollar will burn in your pocket as that harmless little cough grows into a rasping reminder of the horrible death which awaits you. I'll be gone then; your hope will be gone; it will be too late—because I remind you again that Dr. Gorgolis' Consumption Cure cannot be had from store shelves where worthless quack remedies steal your hard-earned dollars, and consign foolish buyers to lives of despair. Don't put it off, friends. Act now. Tomorrow I will be gone. Village upon village eagerly awaits my coming. I pass this way only once."

The doc's last words were the only truthful ones he spoke. He'd never be back; not that particular doc, but there would be others—and they all did well.

Fatal Collision

EDNA, Tex. (AP)—A head-on collision of two cars on a rain-slick highway killed six persons and injured three others near here Sunday.

Killed were Earlene Bailey, 17, Houston; Armando Pena, 19, Edinburg; Raul Garcia, 28, Weslaco; and Jose Garza Jr., 15, Weslaco. Officers said the crash occurred during a light rain.

Shade Assured

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Perhaps, as Joyce Kilmer said, only God can make a tree, but the city of St. Louis can, and does, give them away. The city's residential sections have long been known for their shady tree-lined streets. But the trees, many of them planted more than 100 years ago, are beginning to die off. So the city department of Parks, recreation and forestry raised some shade trees, and they're free to any St. Louis home owner or renter. Each tree is from eight to 10 feet tall.

Now Science Stops Useless* Coughing with a Tiny Tablet
and a sip of water!

* What is useless coughing?
There are two kinds of coughs:
1. Productive—the occasional useful cough that clears the throat and bronchial tubes. DONDRIL does not interfere with the useful cough.
2. Non-Productive—the nagging cough that racks the body, uselessly, and serves no purpose. DONDRIL stops useless coughing.

Controls nerves that control coughing due to colds and excessive smoking. Helps break up bronchial congestion—raises phlegm.

NEW YORK, N. Y. (Special) A major breakthrough in cough control is now announced with the introduction to the public of a new anti-cough tablet. It's a tiny tablet...to be taken with a sip of water. Working through the bloodstream, this remarkable tablet stops useless coughing up to 6 full hours. Called DONDRIL Anti-Cough Tablets, this entirely new concept in cough control is now available without prescription.

The astonishing relief offered by DONDRIL is made possible by a combination of three great medicines...a unique antitussive, a medically-proven decongestant and an exclusive antihistamine. DONDRIL has twice the effectiveness of codeine, yet is non-narcotic. Get DONDRIL Anti-Cough Tablets. Money back if not satisfied. DONDRIL is a trademark.

THE NEIGHBOR'S DOG

Dear Mrs. Post: We have new neighbors living next door to us who have a dog. Every morning, around six o'clock, they let the dog out. He races around the yard barking like mad. My husband does not have to get up until seven o'clock but this incessant barking awakens him at six and he cannot go back to sleep. He works very hard and needs all the rest he can get. Will you please tell me how I can tactfully put an end to this situation without causing ill feelings?

Answer: Your husband's sleep is important and I think you will have to explain this to your new neighbors and ask them please not to let their dog out until seven o'clock in the morning.

Returning Hospitality

Dear Mrs. Post: I have no home of my own, so what do you suggest as the nicest way to return dinner invitations and weekend invitations of my friends? The expense of taking these people to good restaurants would be prohibitive.

Answer: It is not necessary to return invitations in kind, ever — sometimes not even necessary to return them at all. If you feel really indebted to certain friends, you could, on occasion, invite these to a movie, or possibly to lunch. To others you might send flowers, take candy for the family or amusing toys for the children.

Graduation Announcements

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband will be graduating from medical school shortly and the question of graduation announcements has come up. We would like to know to whom it is proper to send such announcements, and also at what time should they be sent?

Answer: They are sent to relatives and intimate friends who will be interested in hearing the news. They are sent out immediately after graduation.

Mrs. Post offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have her leaflet E-18, entitled, "Question in Etiquette Test," send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Freeman Sports Editor

After handling him from remote for several weeks, as it were, we finally got to meet the new city pocket billiard champion a few nights ago and it was a pleasant surprise.

Gene Brown, the Wiltwyck Wizard, who swept through six straight opponents by handsome margins en route to the title, hardly conforms to the stereotyped version of the pool shark—the end result of a misspent youth.

Brown is a handsome native of Philadelphia, college-bred and, of course, the first Negro ever to wear the mantle of city pockets champion. He is a big man, with a delightful personality, lithe and muscular and is currently doing a wonderful job with the kids at Wiltwyck School in Esopus.

The railbirds are comparing him with the legendary Freddie Planthaber, generally regarded as the No. 1 all-time pocket billiard player in local history. The jury is divided but not Bob East, the proprietor of the Uptown Billiard Parlor and a star cued in his own right. Without qualification, he tells you Gene Brown is the greatest pocket billiard player ever to compete on the local scene.

Two Different Styles:

We saw Planthaber over the years. He was phlegmatic, colorless, but deadly. He disposed of opponents with the cold detachment of a butcher snipping a string of frankfurters. Brown, on the other hand, is a mobile, colorful cued, who embellishes a high run with facial grimaces and body English. Like Planthaber, he is a brilliant shotmaker. He has the big league quality of making the long shot under pressure. If anything, he is superior to Planthaber in position play, the key to success on the green baize. It would be difficult for this observer to choose between them mechanically. But for all-round class and style, Brown is far and away superior.

The Wizard has a high run of 126 to his credit, another of 99 and has had several 2-inning games of 125 points. He set the tournament record with 44.

The night we saw him against Mike Carpino, Jr., the champion reeled off a string of 39. He had fairly easy corner breakshot and another rack would have given him a new high skin of 53.

As Brown surveyed the shot, Billy Costello, a tournament rival sidled over from an adjoining table and whispered in Gene's ear: "There's a guy at one of the tables who offers $5 if you break your high run."

Brown took aim and fired away a bit too strongly and the object ball choked up in the pocket and caromed out. The rack was scattered beautifully across the table, but the run was over.

"I guess we all get a little hungry once in a while," Brown mused.

Quite a fellow this heavyweight with the violinist's touch.

Of Men and Mice:

High school grid coaches from a 200-mile radius of Suffern, will attend the annual Football Clinic on March 25-26, at Suffern High School, to hear Blanton Collier, head coach at Kentucky University and four other top ranking grid coaches. The affair is being sponsored by the Rockland County Sports Association. As a direct result of the basketball brawl at Monticello, the DUSO League athletic directors will revise present policy for making sportsmanship awards, it has been learned. A. W. Roberts, secretary of the DUSO League, revealed the plan after last week's meeting which dealt primarily with the "throwing incident" at Monticello. Roberts noted that both schools were commended for the manner in which they handled the situation, but at the same time it was felt that steps should be taken to improve the sportsmanship award selection. The coaches and A.D.s will kick the subject around further at their March 21 meeting in Newburgh. We have no desire to belabor the subject, but we are firmly convinced these incidents will continue until the school authorities make some hard and fast rules governing the size of crowds. Anytime the house is grossly oversold in a basketball anachronism like the Monticello, or any other bandbox court, and the game is important, the elements of a conflagration are always there, just waiting to be touched off.

UCAL Coaches Pick S. Mandia As Best Player for 1959 - 60

Sam Mandia, the senior hot-shot from Marlboro, was voted the outstanding player in the Ulster County Athletic League by its coaches. He tipped Bill Freer, the lone bright spot in a dismal season for New Paltz, and Jim Mooney of Walkkill for the honor.

Others on the first team are Ernie Hannan of Rondout Valley and Brian White, the other half of the scoring punch at Marlboro.

Second team selections are Sylvester Ferguson of Highland, Ken Rumsey and Ralph Bilbao of Walkkill, Bob Sullivan of Marlboro and Dick Bartsch of Ontario.

In conjunction with the coaches, the Freeman will present certificates to members of the first and second squads.

The teams:

FIRST TEAM			Points
Name	School
Sam Mandia	Marlboro	.....	78
Bill Freer	New Paltz	.....	75
Jim Mooney	Walkkill	.....	74
Eddie Hannan	Rondout Valley	.....	71

Sylvester Ferguson	Highland	.....	56
Ken Rumsey	Walkkill	.....	50
Bob Sullivan	Marlboro	.....	50
Dick Bartsch	Ontroera	.....	46
Ralph Bilbao	Walkkill	.....	34

HONORABLE MENTION: Keith Johnson, Rondout Valley (27); Gene Bilbao, Walkkill (19); Charles Brooks, Marlboro (17); Les Meyers, Rondout Valley (13); Bob Wright, Walkkill and Ken Freer, New Paltz (9).

Dutchess Recs Stop Jones Dairy in Pair

After winning the first game by five pins, Jones Dairy of Kingston dropped the next pair to Dutchess Recreation Saturday at Ferraro's and watched their Hudson Valley League pennant hopes virtually fade away.

Jake Charter, the leading belter in the circuit, added to his 210 average with a 693 series to pace the Recs. Charter bombed 217-235-231. Phil Versace, on an uphill climb after a miserable start, had 198-211-216-625 and John Avello had the same total with 173-194-258.

Jack Ferraro led the locals with 175-208-224-607. John Ferraro was close behind with a 605 series on lines of 204-184-217 and Chris Gallo fired 195-194-212-601.

The Recs now lead the Dairy-men by six games in the loss column with only 27 to play. Sterling Studio, trying to finish third in the final standings, helped its cause with a pair of victories from Mazzuca's Esso at Sangi's Bowlero. Dick Howard showed the way with 165-225-223-613 in the low scoring match.

The Five Merchants lost a pair at the Holiday Rec lanes.

despite a 682 blast by Tom Carlini. He was red hot with consistent efforts of 227-233-222.

Eustice Ferraro had 595 but the others had off nights.

Winners Rally In 4th Period To Gain Victory

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

A flurry of 14 straight points in the closing stages of the game gave Tri-Valley a 55-46 win over Rondout Valley Saturday night at the Orange County Community College gym in Middletown and sent the winners into the finals of the Section Nine C-D cage tourney.

Their opponents will be unbeaten Livingston Manor. The Manor players stopped Chester, 55-52, in overtime in the other half of the twin bill. The finals are scheduled for Saturday at the Middletown court.

Doesn't Last

With 4:45 left to play, a side one-hander by Jeff Spiegel and Eddie Hannan's foul shot moved the Ganders ahead, 42-41. This lead didn't last long and by the time Rondout scored again, the contest was just about over.

Gene Walter shoved Tri-Valley to the front with a driving layup. Then Chuck O'Neill converted two foul shots and Clark Brown hit with a driving layup to make the scoreboard read, 47-42, with less than three minutes to play.

O'Neill converted a foul try, Brown hit with a driving layup and then a three-point play and Leo Spann converted two charity tosses to zoom the margin to 55-42.

Until that rally, Rondout had played on almost even terms with the winners. The Ganders were ahead on only two occasions but they managed to stay within seven points most of the way.

Brown, who had seven points in the last period, finished with 16 for the winners. O'Neill added 15 and Walter had 13. Hannan, who was hampered by personal foul trouble very early, led the Ganders with 11 points. Spiegel and Vic D'Alessio made 10 each.

All-Time Bowling Great

Andy Varipapa Guest Speaker For Keresman's Testimonial

Andy Varipapa, one of bowling's all-time great performers and showmen, will be the principal speaker at the bowlers testimonial for Pete Keresman on Saturday, April 9, at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Varipapa will appear through the courtesy of the Brunswick-Balke-Collender Co. of Chicago. A two-time winner of the National All Star match game crown and one of the earliest entries in bowling's Hall of Fame, Varipapa, although 68, still maintains a furious schedule of coast-to-coast appearances to demonstrate his tenpin mastery.

Varipapa's appearance in Kingston was hailed by the Keresman Testimonial Committee which is aware of Varipapa's almost legendary reputation and his frequent contacts with the local bowling scene over the past 30 years.

Pioneer Showman

One of the pioneer exhibition bowlers, Varipapa earned a national reputation as the finest trick shot artist who ever lived. But he was always more than just a trick bowler. He was one of bowling's pioneer match game kings and achieved a pinnacle of success in 1947 when he won the National All Star event at the age of 55. The following year he became the first man ever to repeat for the title and was promptly voted Bowler of the Year honors.

To illustrate his unchallenged span of bowling prominence, Andy set a world record for exhibitions in 1932 with a 275 average for six games; was elected to the ABC Hall of Fame in 1957 and thrilled a 1959 nationwide television audience by rolling nine straight strikes to win $8,000 on the "Jackpot Bowling" show.

"We're very happy to be able to bring to Kingston a person of Andy Varipapa's stature," said Charles J. Tiano, chairman of the testimonial committee. "Andy is an old friend of Kingston bowlers, having made his first appearance in town back in 1932. He is well acquainted with Pete Keresman's contributions to the game and will make a wonderful speaker for the occasion."

Open to Public

Although the testimonial is sponsored jointly by the men and women bowlers of the city, it is open to the public and all of Keresman's friends are invited. Tickets may be purchased

Tilt to Benefit Local Legion Post No. 150

Twenty of the finest high school stars in the area are expected to be seen Saturday, March 26, at the Municipal Auditorium when the DUSO League All-Stars, as selected by the DUSO Sportswriters' Assn., will tangle with the stars from the Dutchess Scholastic League, as selected by the sports staff of the Freeman.

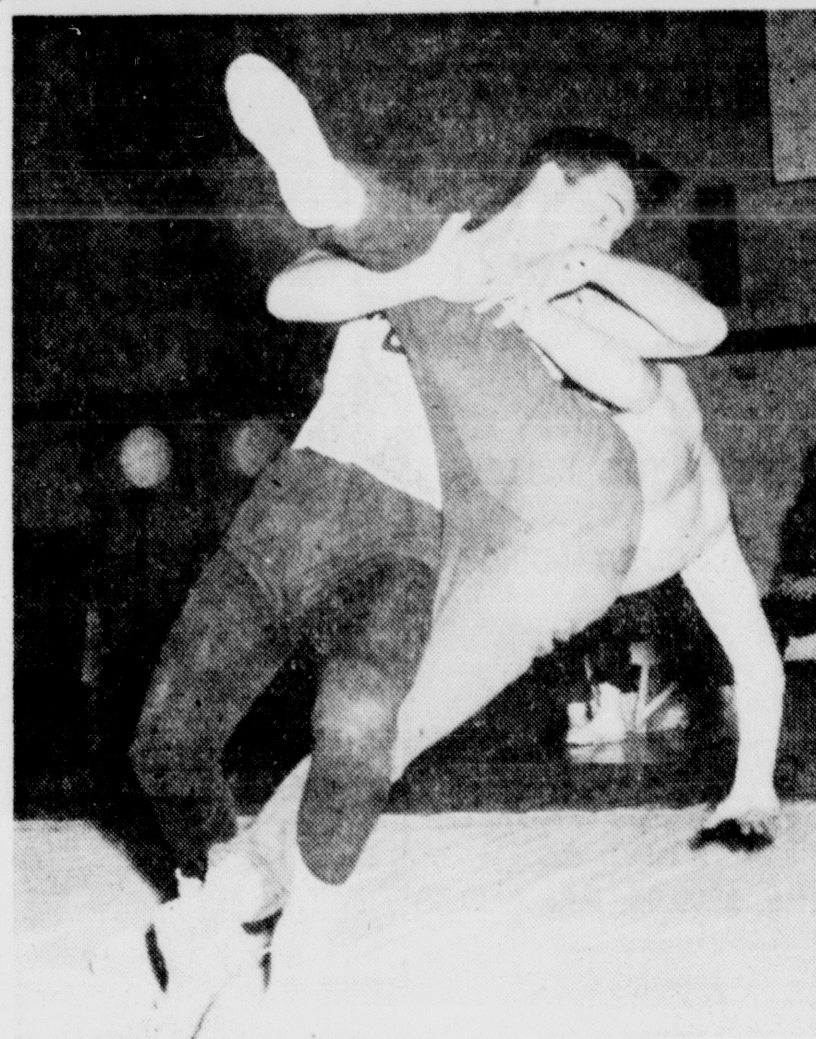

The game is being sponsored by the Kingston Post No. 150 of the American Legion. Plans for the game have been in the works for quite sometime but Legion officials checked with the State Dept. of Physical Education and Recreation before making an announcement of the contest.

Word was received from state officials that since the game has nothing to do with area schools, there are no objections to it being played.

Top Stars Expected

Complete lineups will be made known in the near future. However, it is expected that Joe Uhl and John Kelly of Kingston, Barry Wolven of Saugerties, Mickey SaVino, Art Crum and Larry Weisberg of Arlington, Leo Armstead and Steve Schurmer of Monticello, and many others will be in uniform for the contest.

The scholastic stars, some of the finest in the area, play an exciting brand of basketball and the game promises to be one of

Collegiate Big Three And NYU Head for Friday Showdown

By DON WEISS

Associated Press Sports Writer

The National Invitation Tournament steps front and center in college basketball's tournament stage for the next couple of days while Cincinnati, California, and Ohio State—the game's Big Three—join New York U. in preparing for the NCAA semifinal showdowns at San Francisco Friday night.

The NIT, in the midst of its 23rd annual show at New York's Madison Square Garden, has a doubleheader Tuesday night to determine who joins Utah State and Providence in the semifinals.

The doubleheader brings top-seeded Bradley and defending champion St. John's off the sidelines, where they've been resting since the tournament began last Thursday.

Bradley, only team to beat top-ranked Cincinnati this season, takes a 24-2 record against big, strong Dayton (21-6) while St. John's (17-7 after losing its last two) goes against smooth-working St. Bonaventure, which has built its record to 20-3 with a 17-game winning streak.

The Bradley-Dayton and St. John's-St. Bonaventure winners will meet in one semifinal Thursday night with Providence and second-seeded Utah State, both 23-4, playing in the other. The final, to be nationally televised (NBC), will be played Saturday at 4 p.m., EST.

Big O Hits 43

As for the NCAA, Cincinnati, California, Ohio State and NYU earned their trips to the San Francisco showdown by winning regional titles last Saturday night.

Cincinnati (27-1), with Oscar Robertson scoring 43 points, beat Kansas 82-71 and Friday will play California (27-1). The Golden Bears ousted the Bearcats in last year's semifinals and now has an 18-game winning streak after routing Oregon 70-49 behind All-American Darrall Imhoff.

Ohio State (23-3) won the Midwest regional 86-69 over Georgia Tech and Friday will play NYU (22-3), the Eastern regional champ after romping past Duke 74-59.

Together, the four have a 99-8 record and current winning streaks that total 46-18 for Cal, 14 for Cincinnati, 3 for Ohio State and 11 for NYU.

The small college tournament competition wound up Saturday with Southwest Texas State defeating Westminster (Pa.) 66-44 for the NAIA title. Evansville won its second straight NCAA small college championship Friday.

Nats Even NBA Series

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Minneapolis Lakers, beset all season with reports they'll move to another city, are safely past the first round of the National Basketball Assn. Western Division playoffs.

But its going to take a third game tonight at Philadelphia to decide the Eastern Division first round between the Warriors and Syracuse.

The Nats evened their best-of-three series with the Warriors, winning 125-119 at Syracuse while Minneapolis made it two in a row over the Detroit Piston, 114-99. The Lakers will meet the Western champion St. Louis Hawks in a best-of-seven series beginning Wednesday.

Syracuse, which must play on the Philadelphia court where it has yet to win this year, is confident it can turn the trick after holding Wilt Chamberlain to only 28 points Sunday, 10 below his average.

Frank Selvy scored 30 points and Elgin Baylor 25 in Minneapolis victory Sunday, after beating the Pistons 113-112 Saturday. The Lakers' largest home crowd of the year — 6,205 — saw Minneapolis repeat its playoff victory of a year ago after finishing five games back of the second-place Pistons in regular season play.

Yogi Does Catching

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) —Just how long Yogi Berra will stay at third base for the New York Yankees remains to be seen after the Yanks' 3-2 victory over St. Louis Sunday in which Yogi finished the game as catcher.

Berra worked out at third before the game but Yankee Manager Casey Stengel let regular Andy Carey work the entire game at the hot corner and sent in Berra to relieve Elston Hc. and behind the plate in the seventh inning.

Broncos Have Filchock

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — The Denver entry in the new professional American Football League will be nicknamed the Broncos. The team will be coached by Frank Filchock.

Surprise Switch

NFL Shifts Cardinals
To St. Louis for 1960By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP)—The National Football League, which has had its share of new faces, got a new one today — the St. Louis Cardinals.

The league unanimously agreed to move the Chicago Cardinals to St. Louis.

The new Dallas club with players highlighted the closing sessions of a meeting here which was a continuation of a meeting in Miami in January. It will be resumed in Chicago at a date to be set late this month.

The latest transfer of players to Dallas, revealed today, sent three players from the Green Bay Packers.

They were offensive halfback Don McInerney, a four-year NFL man from Southern Methodist University; Nate Boden, a defensive end and five-year veteran from Indiana; and offensive halfback Bill Butler, a four-year vet from Chattanooga.

Receives 18 Players
Over the weekend the Dallas club received 18 players from the Los Angeles Rams, San Francisco 49ers, New York Giants, Cleveland Browns, Baltimore Colts and Green Bay Packers.

The shift of the Cards to St. Louis, announced by Commissioner Pete Rozelle, came as a surprise.

Director Walter Wolfhard had denied that such a widely rumored move was contemplated.

It cost the other NFL clubs $500,000, paid to the Cardinals, to achieve the switch. A large part of it, Rozelle disclosed, was underwritten by the rival Chicago Bears.

The amount included cost of moving and buying up the Cardinals' lease on Soldier Field in Chicago.

The Bears, Rozelle explained, assumed an undisclosed amount of the half million, realizing that they can now move into what was a closed and now a rich television territory.

The 27th annual tourney, which will run 11 weekends, opened Thursday night.

Leading the Class A team event is O'Keefe's of Buffalo, with 2622. Other team leaders, all from Buffalo, were the Pepsi Five, with 2555, Jubilee three, 2476, and Schaeffer fourth, 2461, and Southside Bowling Center fifth, 2459.

Eloise Kennedy and June Anatel, both of Buffalo, led the Class A doubles with 1090 and Helene Mucha, Buffalo, topped the singles entries with 597.

Arlene Wierzbowski, Buffalo, was the all-event leader with 1630. Her total was piled up on scores of 576 in the singles, 528 in the team event and 528 in the doubles.

Helene Mucha of Buffalo rolled a 247 in the singles event for the highest single game so far. Jerry Milka, of Buffalo, had a 602 in the doubles for the top triple.

The Pfeiffer team that rolls tonight has all but one of last year's performers back.

Tuesday night Budweiser Beer of St. Louis, which finished third last year and fourth in 1958, makes its bid.

Thursday night Steve Nagy leads another crack St. Louis team into action, Falstaff Beer, which won the ABC tourney in 1958 with 3210.

Current leader in the open team division after nine days of action on the alleys is Bellevue, Ky., Banks with 2959.

Less StrikeoutsBy JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—"Strikeouts are too much work."

That's the calculated conclusion of Sandy Koufax, who shares with Bob Feller the major league record of 18 strikeouts in a nine-inning game.

"A strikeout pitcher throws too many pitches," said the young southpaw star of the Los Angeles Dodgers today. "Rarely does he finish a game under 150 pitches. If his control should be off, as is often the case with strikeout pitchers, he can make as many as 175 pitches, provided he's lucky enough to go the distance."

Koufax, who owns the best strikeout percentage of any pitcher in the major leagues—486 batsmen fanned in 517 innings—has made as many as 200 pitches in a route-giving performance.

The 24-year-old Brooklyn-born fireballer has been spending a great deal of time this spring on developing what he calls his breaking ball. It worked to good advantage Sunday as he pitched three hitless frames in the Dodgers' 11-3 triumph over Kansas City.

Ever since he was signed to a $20,000 bonus in 1955, Koufax has been touted as a possible 20-game winner. To date, the most games he's been able to win in one season is 11. Last year, despite his 173 strikeouts in 133 innings he had only an 8-6 record.

The amount included cost of moving and buying up the Cardinals' lease on Soldier Field in Chicago.

The Bears, Rozelle explained, assumed an undisclosed amount of the half million, realizing that they can now move into what was a closed and now a rich television territory.

The 27th annual tourney, which will run 11 weekends, opened Thursday night.

Leading the Class A team event is O'Keefe's of Buffalo, with 2622. Other team leaders, all from Buffalo, were the Pepsi Five, with 2555, Jubilee three, 2476, and Schaeffer fourth, 2461, and Southside Bowling Center fifth, 2459.

Eloise Kennedy and June Anatel, both of Buffalo, led the Class A doubles with 1090 and Helene Mucha, Buffalo, topped the singles entries with 597.

Arlene Wierzbowski, Buffalo, was the all-event leader with 1630. Her total was piled up on scores of 576 in the singles, 528 in the team event and 528 in the doubles.

Helene Mucha of Buffalo rolled a 247 in the singles event for the highest single game so far. Jerry Milka, of Buffalo, had a 602 in the doubles for the top triple.

The Pfeiffer team that rolls tonight has all but one of last year's performers back.

Tuesday night Budweiser Beer of St. Louis, which finished third last year and fourth in 1958, makes its bid.

Thursday night Steve Nagy leads another crack St. Louis team into action, Falstaff Beer, which won the ABC tourney in 1958 with 3210.

Current leader in the open team division after nine days of action on the alleys is Bellevue, Ky., Banks with 2959.

Boxing Beat

Junior Titles
Boxoffice Hits

Don't scoff at those recently revived junior boxing championships. They're paying off big to the two champs.

Last month Carlos Ortiz, the junior welterweight king, collected $17,500 in Los Angeles for knocking out Battling Torres in defense of his 140-pound diadem.

This Wednesday Harold Gomes, of Providence, R.I., boss of the junior lightweight (130 pounds), will earn $25,000 tax-free for a defense against Filipino Flash Elorde at Manila.

They take the synthetic title seriously in Manila. A crowd of about 23,000 is expected to pay about $112,500 for Gomes' first defense. The 26-year-old New Englander won the long dormant title by whipping Texan Paul Jorgensen at Providence last July 20.

Television fans in the United States won't see any champions this week but they'll have two top fights to watch.

On Wednesday night (ABC 10 p.m. EST), heavyweight contenders Ezra Folley of Chandler, Ariz., and Mike DeJohn of Syracuse, N.Y., clash in Cleveland, Folley, 24, against the No. 1 contender with Ring and No. 3 by the NBA has won nine straight. DeJohn, ranked ninth, has a winning streak of three.

The Friday night feature (NBC radio-TV, 10 p.m. EST) pairs Argentina's Eduardo (KO) Lausse and Willie Graves, Canadian middleweight champion, at New York's Madison Square Garden. Lausse, a terrific left hooker, returns to the American ring after an absence of four years. He has won 14 straight. Graves, an aggressive body puncher, has won his last four.

Cold Weather Will Continue

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Here are the extended weather forecasts for New York State, prepared by the U. S. Weather Bureau, for the period from 7 p. m. today, to 7 p. m., Saturday:

Eastern New York — Temperatures will continue on the cold side but somewhat higher than the past week, averaging about 5 degrees below normal. Water content of precipitation is expected to average under 1/2 inch, occurring as snow at midweek, and possibly again at the end of the week. Weather conditions will be considerably more favorable for maple sap flow, with daytime temperatures reaching the mid 30s over central and southern counties 3 or 4 days out of the period.

Western New York—Changeable weather is indicated with temperatures averaging a few degrees below normal. Clouding up with moderate temperatures followed by snow Tuesday, probably becoming mixed with or changing to rain on Wednesday. Another general snow or rain period beginning Friday or Saturday. More than 1/2 inch of melted precipitation is expected.

Temperature normals—Normal temperatures over Upstate New York now range from daytime highs of 36-43, to overnight lows of 14-19 north and lower 20s central and south.

Mission Speaker To Be at Willow Church Thursday

The Rev. Edward L. Eddy, missionary to Sierra Leone, West Africa, will speak at the Wesleyan Methodist Church, Route 212, Willow, Tuesday 7:30 p. m.

The Rev. Mr. Eddy with his family has been in missionary work in Africa since 1947. For a number of years he has been field superintendent of the Wesleyan Methodist mission in Sierra Leone. Under his supervision are a staff of 24 missionaries, a mission hospital and five outlying dispensaries where over fifty thousands treatments are given annually, an intensive program of evangelism, a missionary educational system of 13 Bible and secular schools, a printing establishment where gospel literature is printed in the tribal languages and a radio ministry in the vernacular tongues.

The Rev. Mr. Eddy, himself the son of a missionary parents, was born in Africa. Currently on furlough, he is residing in Clearwater, Fla., until his return to Sierra Leone. Color slides will be shown and a free will offering will be taken. The Rev. Clarence C. Murray, host pastor, has extended an invitation to the public to attend.

Allies Pressured On Preparations For Summit Meet

By JAMES MARLOW Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet preparations for the summit conference are like a rest cure, compared with what the Allies have to go through.

Latest example is the visit here by West Germany's chancellor, the 84-year-old Konrad Adenauer who visits President Eisenhower Tuesday.

This past weekend British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan visited French President Charles de Gaulle to talk about the summit. Later De Gaulle visits Britain and then comes to see Eisenhower. The summit meeting starts in Paris, May 16.

More than 15 months ago Premier Nikita Khrushchev began pushing the Allies toward this summit conference by demanding they get their troops out of West Berlin which, although 100 miles inside Communist East Germany, is linked with the West.

Know What They Want The Soviets know what they want. They want West Berlin absorbed into the Communist world, they want to stop West Germany from re-arming, and they want the permanent division of West and East Germany.

Adenauer and his West Germans don't want their Western allies to agree to any of those things. Adenauer doesn't want the West to make any soft concessions, either.

"Since West Berlin is so deep inside East Germany, a Soviet satellite, Khrushchev has an advantage which he holds over the Allies' heads."

All supplies for West Berlin— from the West—must pass through or over East Germany. Any time he wishes Khrushchev can order the supplies shut off.

Eisenhower himself agreed last year that the Allied ground forces in Europe aren't strong enough to prevent the Soviet from shutting the Allies out of West Berlin.

If the Allies tried to resort to some other kind of force, it would be with planes or missiles. Either one would mean war. They might try to supply West Berlin by air as they did 11 years ago. If the Soviets interfered with that, the result might be war, too.

Germany Main Issue Although Berlin and divided Germany will be the main issue at the summit, the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union will do the direct talking.

West and East Germany of course will be practically in the conversation, too, since they'll be sitting close by. But the West Germans seem fearful the West will make concessions to avoid conflict.

Earlier this month administration authorities here were reported as saying Eisenhower will give Adenauer a virtual veto over Western policies at the summit, that the West German leaders must be satisfied.

At his news conference last week Secretary of State Christian A. Herter was asked about this. He said the United States had never pretended to say anyone will have a veto at the summit.

But he added the Allies are trying to "concert" their position along with Adenauer's West German.

You can translate this anyway you want but it seems to add up to this: so far as the United States is concerned, West Germany is going to have an awful lot to say about what the Allies say.

Only one thing about the summit seems clear at this moment. Between now and May 16 both talk and tension will increase as the Allies wrestle with one another and Khrushchev throws some broken glass into the ring.

Central Park Cafe

NEW YORK (AP) — Central Park is going to get a new cafe— as much like the sidewalk cafes of Paris as possible. The Parks Department announced a gift of $500,000 from Huntington Hartford, a member of the A. and P. grocery family, will make the cafe possible. It will be situated across Central Park South from the Hotel Plaza.

First apothecary shop in North America was opened in 1646 at Boston, Mass.

ULSTER VOLS HONOR KILMER — Ulster Hose Company No. 5 honored its five-term president, Alfredrick A. Kilmer, with a testimonial dinner Saturday night in the hose company rooms, Albany Avenue Extension. Kilmer resigned in January because he must move to Hartford, Conn., to accept a promotion as route superintendent for Drake Baking Company. He was presented with a past president's badge and a leather case. Participating in the presentation ceremonies are (l-r) Town of Ulster Supervisor Alexander Banyo, Kilmer, Robert Metcalf, president of the company, and Fire Chief Harry Lowe, toastmaster. Guest speakers were Joseph L. Murphy, former Kingston fire chief, and Harold A. Sanford, deputy fire chief of Kingston Fire Department. (Freeman photo).
